WHATSAPP BANS OVER 23.28L INDIAN ACCOUNTS IN AUGUST

New Delhi: WhatsApp banned over 23.28 lakh Indian accounts in August, of which over 10 lakh accounts were proactively taken down before any report from users, the messaging platform said on Saturday. The tougher IT rules, which came into effect last year, mandate large digital platforms (with over 50 lakh users) to publish compliance reports every month, mentioning the details of complaints received and action taken.

Ultra high-speed services rolled out in eight cities | Services all set to go pan-India by end of 2023 | Country to lead the fourth industrial revolution, says PM

India ushers in 5G era

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIA on Saturday ushered in the 5G era with Prime Minister Narendra Modi launching the services in eight cities including Delhi, Mumbai, Bengaluru and Varanasi. The 5G technology, which is 100 times faster than 4G and has the potential to deliver up to 20 Gbps speed, would be available across the country next year.

The government estimates the cumulative economic impact of 5G on India will touch $450 billion by 2035. While launching the 5G services, Modi said the technology's use will not be limited to high-speed internet access, saying it has the capability to change lives. "Today, 130 crore Indians are getting a wonderful gift in the form of 5G... It is the beginning of an infinite sky of opportunities. I congratulate every Indian for this," he said.

The PM pointed out that India was dependent on other countries for 2G, 3G and 4G technologies but with 5G, India has created history. "India is setting a global standard in telecom technology for the first time," he remarked.

He further said the cost of data in India is among the lowest in the world. It has come down from ₹300 to about ₹10 per GB. Modi also urged the telecom industry leaders to visit schools and colleges and unleash every aspect of this new technology. He also asked them to create an ecosystem for MSMEs to prepare spare parts for electronic manufacturing.

"India may not have benefited from the first three industrial revolutions, but I am confident that it will take full benefit of the 4th industrial revolution and, in fact, will lead it," said Modi.

Reliance Industries and Bharti Airtel said they will roll out 5G services nationwide by December 2023 and March 2024, respectively. The third largest telco Vodafone Idea hasn't given any timeline for rolling out 5G service. State-owned BSNL is yet to complete its 4G rollout. P13

Diggie, PC in race for RS LoP as Kharge quits

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Mallikarjun Kharge on Saturday resigned as the Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha after filing nomination to contest in the party's presidential election. Kharge's resignation is in line with the policy of "one person, one post" adopted at the Udaipur conclave.

Sources said senior leaders P Chidambaram, Digvijaya Singh and Pramod Tiwari are the frontrunners in the race to replace Kharge.

Party general secretary Mukul Wasnik's name was also doing the rounds, but Congress leaders said the party may not pick up another Dalit for a top job within days of selecting Kharge for presidency and appointing Dalit leader Brijlal Khabri as UP Congress president on Saturday.

Sources said Tiwari was being considered as Chidambaram hails from the South and the party is electing its president from the same region. Digvijaya has been the Madhya Pradesh CM for 10 years, and is considered close to Rahul Gandhi. He is also known for his political acumen.

Meanwhile, former Jharkhand minister K N Tripathi's nomination for president was rejected on Saturday as the signature of one of his proposers did not match, narrowing the race to between Kharge and Shashi Tharoor.

Rahul, Siddu violated wildlife norms during yatra, says BJP

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

BJP leaders have filed a complaint against Congress leaders participating in the 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' over the alleged violation of wildlife norms inside Bandipur Tiger Reserve (BTR) on Friday morning.

The complaint was filed on Saturday morning against former Congress president Rahul Gandhi, who is spearheading the Bharat Jodo Yatra, Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, and Congress leaders K J George and H C Mahadevappa. In the complaint, the BJP leaders have alleged that the Congress leaders entered the tiger reserve without permission and got down from their vehicles on the main BTR road, which is not permitted as per Wildlife Protection Act, 1972.

The complainants also alleged that forest department staffers allowed entry through the checkposts from Karnataka and Mudumalai sides when the gates should be closed. P6

Dalit boy tied to pole, thrashed in Chintamani

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chikkaballapur

IN a shocking incident, a 14-year-old Dalit boy was allegedly tied to a pole and beaten up by some people belonging to an upper caste at a village in Chikkaballapur district on Thursday night. When the parents of the boy tried to rescue him, they were also thrashed.

SP D L Nagesh said the incident took place around 9 pm at Kempadenahalli, a tiny village about 10 km from Chintamani town in Chikkaballapur district. Chikkaballapur Deputy Commissioner N M Nagaraj, who visited the village along with the SP on Saturday, called the incident "unfortunate".

He said a compensation of ₹25,000 each has been paid to the boy and his parents.

Based on a complaint from the boy's mother Rathna, a case has been registered against 10 people, including a woman. P5

STAR POWER OF A BULL

Hallikar breed bull has found buyers who are ready to pay over ₹1 cr. But his owner aims to enter Limca Book of Records

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

Boregowda with Hallikar bull | EXPRESS

WHEN was the last time you heard that people are flocking to catch a glimpse of a bull? It is the Hallikar breed bull at Dasara Krishi Mela expo which is attracting huge visitors as the breeders are ready to pay over a crore to purchase the indigenous breed bull.

Boregowda, the owner of BG Banduru Kuri farm in Malavalli taluk in Mandya district, is the owner of the bull Krishna, who is 4 years and 7 months old. Krishna was first owned by Ravi Patel from Kalenahalli in Mandya, and from him gangster-turned-social activist Muthappa Rai bought him for ₹4.5 lakh.

"The calf was weak, so I purchased him for ₹2.75 lakh. I fed him nutritious food, and now he is 6.5 feet in height, 8 feet in length and weighs 900 kg. Earlier, some breeders who came to my farm, quoted Rs 6 lakh, and recently, former animal husbandry minister KN Nage Gowda's son Arun Gowda made an offer of Rs 68 lakh. A farmer Papanna Gowda from Dasanadoddi village in Malavalli said he will pay Rs 1 crore. However, I want the bull to enter the Limca Book of Records, and then think of selling him if I get a good price," he said.

Krishna is known for his breeding. Boregowda sells his semen to farmers. Each semen stick costs ₹1,000, which is kept in a liquid nitrogen container. Boregowda is the only farmer in the country who sells Hallikar bull semen for breeding. He has consulted Karamveer Singh, the owner of Yuvaraj bull from Haryana, regarding the semen storage mechanism.

Wadiyars thanked

Boregowda lauded the Wadiyars for protecting the breed, which was on the verge of extinction due to inbreeding and hybridization, by opening gaushalas in the region.

Hallikar breed bulls are found in Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajangara, Hassan and Tumakuru districts, and are known for their their strength needed for ploughing. "Due to modern ploughing machines like tractors, tillers, rotary, farmers have stopped rearing the bull," he said.

Helps in organic farming

The demand for semen of Hallikar bulls is for breeding as the milk contains A2 protein which is salient to fight kidney-related ailments, and helps to keep hypertension and diabetes in control.

"The milk from Hallikar cattle is used for organic farming. Cattle urine, milk, dung, curd, ghee are prepared from it for organic farming," he said, adding that when a mother is unable to breastfeed the child, the family members buy milk from Hallikar cows.

"Hallikar cows give around 2 to 3L of milk. I sell the milk for ₹100/L, ghee ₹250/L and butter ₹1,600. The urine is sold at ₹10/L," he said.

STEERING THE SHOW

MYSURU: As part of the Dasara festivities, District Minister ST Somashekar flagged off the vintage cars rally organised at Hebbal Industrial Area on Saturday. The vintage cars collection is owned by industrialist M Gopinath Shenoy. During the show, 43 cars and 20 bikes were put on display which are more than a century old. Gopinath has automobile collections going back to the 1920s. Some of his collection include, 1951 Morris Minor, 1956 Fiat Millecento, 1954 Austin 8, 1963 Beetle, 1954 Fiat Topolino, 1947 Standard Buick Roadmaster, 1947 Buick Electra Roadmaster, and 1931 Rolls Royce of the Maharaja of Ramgarh. Somashekar took a brief ride in a vintage car, and appreciated Shenoy for his car collection, which have been imported from the US, Australia, Germany, among others. "Maintaining vintage cars which are so old is very difficult," he said. ENS

KR Market subway now open, has 6 entry-exit points, 32 CCTVs

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

People walk through the new subway at KR Market which was completed under ₹18 crore, in Bengaluru on Saturday | VINOD KUMAR.T

THE Bengaluru Smart City Limited has finally completed the much-anticipated KR Market Junction improvement and new subway project, after completing 32 roads under the project. The subway has six points for entry and exit points to address concerns regarding pickpocketing, chain snatching, mugging which would take place in dimly-lit areas. The area has been covered by 32 high-resolution CCTV cameras while LED lights and escalators have also been fitted.

N Chandrasekhar, Executive Engineer of Smart City Limited, Bengaluru, said, "The junction in KR Market and subway project were taken up in February 2021. There was seepage in the subway. Concrete work on the roof, side walls and on the surface was done. The cable network was also redesigned and taken to the center of the subway roof. Refurbishment of granite flooring and cladding in KR Market subway was also done. A small passage is provided on both sides of the subway, and has been covered with metal. In case of flooding, the water will reach the collection point, and from there it will be pumped out," the official added.

To prevent power disruption, a DG set has been installed. Since there is traffic on Masjid Road near Kalasipalya Pvt Bus Stand, the roads were white topped. Under the project, the officials also designed two Islands at the junction. Development of bus stands at KR Market, better illuminations of bus bay and signage were done under the project.

"The project was completed in under Rs 18 crore. We were waiting for the project to be inaugurated by the CM in coming days as small works were pending in the junction and surroundings but the Additional Chief Secretary Rajneesh Goel directed that the subway be opened to prevent public coming on to the road," the official said.

Feeding rooms for mothers and toilets, which have diaper changing rooms and cater to the needs of the specially-challenged, have also been built.

Scan QR codes for cardiac emergency

Bengaluru : Manipal Hospital in Bengaluru has rolled out QR codes at 15 major traffic signals across the city to provide first-aid care and medical services to those facing cardiac emergencies. Deepak Venugopalan, COO, Bengaluru cluster, Mysuru and Salem, said that they had started the on World Heart Day to render quick emergency service around the city. During a medical emergency, it is hard to have a presence of mind, and so the the QR codes have been launched with the support of Bengaluru Traffic Police, he added. CPR training was also organised by Manipal Hospital, Old Airport Road with a dummy 10 units. They aim to provide training to the public to equip them to save lives during cardiac emergencies. Dr Sunil Karanth, chairman, Critical CARE Medicine, said cardiac emergency has no age bar, and can occur anywhere. The QR codes would help in quick response to an emergency which increase the survival chances of a patient. ENS

TOP 500 RANKS SAME IN REVISED KCET LIST: MIN

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

THE revised ranking list for Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET) 2022 was released on Saturday after six percent marks obtained in second pre-university (PU) 2021 were deducted for repeaters. The revised list is applicable for engineering, agriculture, yoga, naturopathy courses.

State Higher Education Minister Dr Ashwath Narayan said that there was no difference in the top 500 rankings which were announced on July 30, and added that only 14 of all repeaters were ranked between 500-1,000. Around 2,063 students ranked between 501 and 10,000, and 22,022 students between 10,001 and 1 lakh.

The 2021 repeaters passed without writing any exam due to the pandemic, but later, they enrolled in professional courses only on the basis of their secondary PU marks. A total of 24,000 students of that year appeared for the exam in 2022, and their PU score was not considered for evaluating the total CET score.

Protests erupted after the KCET results were announced on July 30, as the second PU marks were not considered for repeaters. The students moved the Karnataka High Court, and the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) was asked to redo the rankings. According to the high court's verdict, 10 per cent of the seats in IT-related branches were supposed to be increased, but there is no response for the proposal.

Many freshers were disappointed with the revised result, and asked that IT seats be increased by 10 per cent as per the court's order. However, there is no clarity and the students await the final matrix for more information.

One of the students said that freshers have called the final list unjust, and have now urged the authorities to abide by the court's order and increase IT seats. Some freshers had an opposite reaction as many of them saw their ranks jump of 20-30 thousand on an average. An engineering student's revised rank jumped to 23,000 from 1,26,000.

Counselling may begin tomorrow

Bengaluru : Ramya S, executive director, KEA, said on Saturday that the counselling process for KCET is expected to begin on October 3, and the final seat matrix and eligible candidate list will also be released on the same day. Regarding revised KCET ranking list, which was released on Saturday, she said that the 2022 fresher students saw a variation of around 4,000 on an average. According to the revised list, the highest rank was 490 secured by Tejas Pratap, a CBSE student and last rank was 1,74,351 secured by Sachin Raj, a PU board student. Of 2 lakh students, who appeared for KCET, around 1,71,000 were eligible for engineering, and of 1,063 architecture applications, 1,031 ranks were allotted. Ramya also said the revised results were not applicable for veterinary and pharmacy students as ranks were based only on KCET score. ENS

Demolition drive: Ball in Revenue Dept court

Palike says anti-encroachment action stalled for now, as next set of properties yet to be identified

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

THE BBMP, which started the demolition drive with much fury two weeks ago, has gone quiet over the last few days, claiming that it has done its duty for now and that the next set of properties has to be identified by the Revenue Department. But the Revenue Department says it is facing a shortage of surveyors to identify encroachments by buildings.

The entire Bengaluru East taluk has only 11 land surveyors, while the demand is for more than double of that. Also, the Revenue Department says the properties can be demolished only after hearing the version of alleged encroachers.

Bengaluru East Tahsildar Ajith Rai told The New Sunday Express, "Elevent land surveyors are surveying encroachments on storm water drains, lakes and other areas in KR Puram and Mahadevapura Assembly segments. There is a shortage of surveyors. We are trying hard to complete the process."

He said, "Before demolishing properties, we need to send notices and conduct hearings. Only after giving enough time to property owners, can we go ahead with the demolition."

Executive Engineer, Storm Water Drains, R Malati, said, "The encroachment removal drive is being conducted based on the court order. Over the last few days, we are only conducting surveys. After tahsildar's notice, hearing and the orders, we will deploy demolition teams."

The BBMP recently said after a two-weeks drive in September, around 5,000 metres of storm water drains have been cleared in the Mahadevapura zone. Some properties were spared as the owners approached the court and obtained stay. Palike Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath had instructed the department concerned to file caveats and proceed. Chief Engineer of Storm Water Drain Department M Lokesh said that of over 60 properties that had obtained stay, caveats will be issued to 29 properties and demolition will be taken up after orders from the Bengaluru East tahsildar.

K'taka HC upholds levy of double tax on tobacco products

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has upheld the imposition of excise duty and National Calamity Contingent Duty (NCCD) on tobacco products.

Justice M I Arun passed the order while dismissing petitions filed by Ghodawat Packers LLP and five others against imposition of NCCD.

The petitioners contended that when excise duty is not levied, NCCD cannot be levied and there was no excise duty on tobacco and tobacco products from July 1, 2017 to July 6, 2019. Hence, NCCD should not have been levied during the said period.

Prior to Central Goods and Services Act, 2017, tobacco products were being taxed under the provisions of the Central Excise Act, 1944 (read with Central Excise Tariff Act, 1985).

Noting that repealing of the Central Excise Act does not absolve the petitioners from paying NCCD as determined under the Seventh Schedule to the Finance Act, the court said that NCCD is a surcharge and a type of excise duty which can be levied independent of the excise duty as contemplated under the provisions of the Fourth Schedule to the Central Excise Act, 1944. Thus levy of NCCD in the absence of levy of excise duty cannot be considered as bad in law, the court said.

The court also said that the levy of excise duty on tobacco and tobacco products is a matter of public policy and therefore it would not interfere. The CGST itself contemplates levy of excise duty upon tobacco and tobacco products, apart from them being taxed under the provisions of CGST. There is no error. Thus the respondents -- Ministry of Finance and the Commissioner of Central Tax -- are entitled to levy CGST as well as excise duty on tobacco and tobacco products, the court ruled.

Without proper CCTV footage, cops fail to crack hit-and-run cases

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE city traffic police, who depend on CCTV footage to identify vehicles involved in hit-and-run incidents, have not been able to solve some recent cases as they cite many reasons. The city has around 1,100 CCTV cameras and another 7,000 are being added under the 'Safe City' project.

Three days ago, a 33-year-old accountant, Sushma, was killed after an unidentified vehicle crashed into her scooter in Badrappa Layout. But the Hebbal traffic police have not found any clues in the case, saying there are no CCTV cameras on the stretch. Now, they are checking footage from nearby traffic junctions to identify the vehicle.

This is not the only case. Three weeks ago, a speeding high-end car hit a TNIE employee in front of Balabrooie Guesthouse. The High Grounds traffic police claim they could trace the vehicle movement on the CCTV camera, but could not pick the vehicle number as the footage is blurred.

Arun Kumar B, who sustained injuries, said, "An auto driver who saw the white Jaguar car that hit me shared the details with the police. I was severely injured and the auto driver rushed me to a hospital. I wonder how the policemen have not traced the vehicle even after a couple of weeks. I repeatedly called the investigating officer, but he said there is no proper CCTV footage. I doubt the accused will be arrested."

DCP Traffic (East) Kala Krishnaswamy said, "There are several ways to identify vehicles involved in hit-and-run cases. CCTV cameras are just one option.. But I don't want to reveal those technical aspects." MN Srihari, an expert from Transportation Infrastructure Planning Systems, said, "The staff working at the Traffic Management Centre are not trained properly and they do not know how to monitor the CCTV footage to crack crimes and traffic-related cases. Five years ago, there were fewer CCTVs, but the police could solve hit and run cases. Now they have sufficient high-definition cameras but still are not able to upgrade to the technology."

Boy removed girl's earrings, says SP

THREE persons, Nagaraj, Narayanaswamy and Naveen, have been arrested and a team has been formed to nab the other remaining accused.

The SP said the boy, a Class 9 student, allegedly took a four-year-old girl belonging to an upper caste, to a lonely place and removed her gold earrings. This infuriated the villagers who beat up the boy, his mother Rathna and father Anand. All three have been admitted to a hospital and their condition is said to be stable.

The SP said based on a complaint from Ambika, mother of the four-year-old girl, a case has been registered against the boy and his parents.

It may be recalled that a 15-year-old Dalit boy's family was fined of Rs 60,000 after the boy touched a pole attached to an idol of Boothamma, a deity, during a procession at Ullerahalli in Kolar district on September 8. Village elders, who convened a panchayat, asked the family to leave the village if they fail to pay the fine. Eight persons were booked in the case.

HC quashes PIL seeking parking rights for lawyers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has ruled that advocates do not have the right to park their vehicles inside court premises. While dismissing a public interest litigation (PIL) filed by advocate N S Vijayanth Babu, a division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty observed that while Section 30 of the Advocates' Act gives the right to advocates to practice law, it does not give them the right park their vehicles inside court premises. "The petition is misconceived as there is no element of public interest involved in it", the court said.

The petitioner, who is a member of Advocates' Association, Bengaluru, approached the court seeking quashing of a notice dated August 5, 2022 issued by the Association over the issuance of new vehicle stickers to its members.

The court said that the notice appears to have been issued to regulate the entry of the vehicles used by advocates and intends to find a solution to the parking problem faced by advocates. "We have carefully perused the petition. No particulars have been furnished by the petitioner about the advocates who visit the courts in Bengaluru from outside. The parking space in the premises of the courts is limited and the entry of the vehicles needs to be regulated. Even if a sticker is issued to an advocate who is member of the Association, the same does not guarantee that the advocate is entitled to use parking space in the premises of the court", the court said.

Doubting wife's fidelity, man ends life

ENS @ Bengaluru

SUSPECTING his wife's fidelity, a 37-year-old man ended his life by hanging at his house in Nelamangala Town late Friday. The deceased has been identified as Chowdaiah B, a garment factory worker in Dobbespet industrial area.

The incident came to light when his relatives, who came to meet him on Saturday, had to break open the door after their repeated knocks on the door went unanswered. Preliminary investigation has revealed that Chowdaiah often fought with his wife as he suspected her fidelity. He had also hit her last week. Unable to bear harassment, Chowdaiah's wife went to her parents house four days ago and refused to return.

2 arrested for peddling drugs, 1 kg ganja seized

BENGALURU: The Nelamangala police have arrested two drug peddlers on charges of selling ganja to lorry drivers along highways. The accused, Althamash Sharif, and his associate Ismahil, were caught red-handed as they peddled drugs near a dhaba. A kilo of drug was seized from them. The accused confessed that they had stolen four two-wheelers to reach the Nelamangala highway. Two mobile phones and Rs 5,000 in cash were also seized from the duo, police said.

Rahul holds jan ki baat, interacts with artists, farmers, activists

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi waves to the crowd on the second day of the Karnataka leg of Bharat Jodo Yatra, which began from Begur to Kalale in Mysuru district on Saturday | UDAYSHANKAR S

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Nanjangud

THE morning chill and continuous drizzle failed to dampen the enthusiasm of thousands of marchers taking part in the Bharat Jodo Yatra as they along with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi entered Mysuru district on Saturday. The crowd continued to swell with thousands from neighbouring Kodagu and Ramanagara districts joining the yatra.

Gandhi, who has announced that he will listen to people from different walks of life during his yatra, devoted much of his time interacting with young artistes, writers, farmers and Dalit activists while marching to the temple town of Nanjangud.

Many young writers said there is a growing intolerance against dissenting voices against the government. A young writer said he was booked for writing an article against the government two years ago. Another young musician, Chithan, who has penned a song on the Preamble of the Constitution, narrated the ordeal musicians suffered during the pandemic. "I was happy the way Rahul treated us and reacted to our issues. He gave us enough time to speak and gave apt replies," he said.

Farmers spoke on the need for the minimum support price for their produce, rising cost of cultivation and spike in fertiliser prices. Dalit leaders and activists too expressed their concern.

Chairman of the Congress media and publicity team Pawan Khera said many expressed that freedom of expression is in danger. "We want people to speak more as we don't believe in Mann ki baat," he added.

The Day 2 of Karnataka phase of the yatra began from Tondavadi Gate near Begur village in Gundlupet taluk of Chamarajanagar and reached Kalale in Nanjangud taluk.

Congress leaders and workers from Bengaluru South, Madikeri, Virajpet, Hunsur, HD Kote, Nanjangud, Ramanagar, Kanakapura and Channapatna Assembly constituencies walked with Rahul.

There was a bigger number of participants than Day 1 as it entered Mysuru district around 11 am. Food and refreshments were arranged for nearly 1 lakh people at Kalale Gate.

Throughout the journey, Rahul kept waving at a large number of people who had gathered on Nanjangud-Ooty road. He interacted with leaders from local Congress units, DCC and block Congress.

Rally hits traffic, tourists to Mysuru affected

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

THE Bharat Jodo Yatra, led by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi that entered Karnataka on Friday, has been drawing huge crowds. But the overwhelming response has affected tourists travelling to Mysuru for the 10-day Dasara festivities because of traffic congestion on Mysuru-Ooty road. As the yatra is taking the National Highway 181 that connects Kerala via Wayanad, tourists coming from Kerala are stuck in long traffic jams.

Normally, a large number of tourists from Kerala arrive for Mysuru Dasara and the traffic jam has affected their travel plans. On the other hand, people travelling to Ooty too have been affected.

The police have diverted the traffic through Chamarajanagar for people to reach Gundlupet, but still hours-long gridlocks have hit travel plans of tourists, majority of them techies, going to Ooty, Wayanad and Bandipur for the weekend.

Many motorists blamed the authorities for poor traffic management. They said the yatra could have been allowed to use one part of the road, while allowing vehicles to pass on the other side instead of blocking the entire width. Others said the yatra should not have been allowed anywhere near Mysuru when Dasara is going on. "How will people reach Mysuru when Rahul will walk in the evening from Dundya, Kadakola to Mysuru? There will be a huge turnout in Mysuru to enjoy the illumination. Won't this affect tourists," Ravish, a tourist, asked.

Yatra's change in route caught officials off guard

CHECK-posts allow entry of vehicles through BTR only from 6 am to 6 pm. There is a night traffic ban on vehicular movement, except for emergency vehicles and four tourist buses during night hours.

A senior forest department official told The New Sunday Express that Rahul Gandhi's convoy was to pass through NH-766 (connecting Kozhikode in Kerala to Kollegal in Karnataka, earlier known as NH 212), but it came in from Mudumalai side, through Gudalur and entered BTR via Kekkanahalla check-post at NH-67.

Forest staffers said as Gandhi's vehicles were to enter from Kerala, department employees were deployed there to ensure no rules were violated. Assuming that all would be normal on the road from Mudumalai, duty staffers were stationed only at the entry and exit points. The modified route caught the forest officials off-guard.

In the meantime, Siddaramaiah came in from the Karnataka side and they met inside the forest between Kekkanahalla and Melukamanahalli check-posts. They got down from their vehicles and exchanged bouquets, after which Siddaramaiah got into Gandhi's vehicle. The violations that are being looked into are causing disturbance, parking and getting down from vehicles. "Many are arguing with us and saying 'so what?'. But we are inquiring into the matter and want to spread the message that nobody is above law. No one can get down from their vehicles inside the tiger reserves," the official said. The Karnataka Forest Department is also being questioned for negligence of duty as the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change has sought a report.

Forest department staffers are also investigating charges against senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh that he got out of his vehicle to photograph a tusker en route.

BJP, A LIE-MANUFACTURING FACTORY: SIDDU

MYSURU: Terming BJP a lie-manufacturing factory, Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on Saturday said the ruling party is rattled by the success of Bharat Jodo Yatra. On a BJP-sponsored advertisement against Congress, he said the ruling party has stooped to this level as it is rattled by the success of the Yatra. "In 1937, when Savarkar was the president of Hindu Mahasabha, he had propounded a two-nation theory saying Hindus and Muslims can't be together. Those who follow him are trying to teach us a lesson saying Congress divided the country, which is far from the truth. They are known to distort history," he said. Congress united over 600 small states. "Has anyone from RSS contributed or fought for freedom? They are trying to divert people's attention by making false allegations," he said. ENS

FIR AGAINST CONGRESS WORKER WHO SPORTED 'PAYCM' TEE DURING YATRA

MYSURU: A Congress worker and Seva Dal member was booked by the Chamarajanagar CEN police for taking part in the Bharat Jodo Yatra, sporting a 'PayCM' t-shirt. The police, who have registered a case based on a complaint by G S Kiran -- a member of Gundlupet Town Municipal Council and BJP leader, have identified the party worker as Akshay Kumar Sindagi from Vijayapura. The incident was reported as the rally was under way, with Rahul Gandhi and other party workers heading from Gundlupet to Begur. Based on a viral video clip, police caught up with Sindagi and made him take off the t-shirt, and allegedly made him walk half-naked for some distance before detaining him, following which a complaint was registered. The police have registered cases under IPC Sections 505 (1)(B), 507 and 66(D) of the IT Act. However, this has not gone down well with Congress leaders. The incident has come exactly a day after CLP leader Siddaramaiah warned a section of the police against "colluding with the BJP". Meanwhile, Siddaramaiah accused the BJP of misusing the state machinery for its own gains. ENS

'IT'S TIME TO THINK BEYOND POLITICS'

RAMU PATIL

SUNDAY INTERVIEW

WELL-known theatre director and Gandhian Prasanna says it's time to think beyond politics and look at the social-cultural sector. "We should get the courage to do that, only then politics will change," he says. Excerpts:

What is the significance of khadi?

In post-Independent India, the most neglected side of Gandhiji was his constructive action. He believed that constructive action was parallel action, which had to go along with political action. But the moment we got Independence, we dropped constructive action and picked up political action vigorously. Khadi is the flagship of constructive action. It did not die, but was neglected. It's been happening because of a small group of dedicated people. If anything can save humanity from annihilation, it is handmade, which is khadi symbolically. Khadi has real value, and it should become real value.

> We have been talking too much about Gandhian values, while neglecting the Gandhian lifestyle.
> Prasanna, theatre director and Gandhian

What do we mean by 'real value'?

In India, when we talk about employment, we only talk about employing the employable, which is only about 30% of the population. A large section of women and aged men are left out. They also need to have jobs as there is so much poverty. Gandhiji thought of khadi as a way of generating millions of small jobs, which could be done sitting at home.

When everything is mechanised and competitive, how do we make khadi or the handmade sector competitive?

Forget about competition. Why do you want to compete with annihilators? This is the problem with people. People are looking at life in a subjective way. Today, we are getting it (a product) at Rs 10, and tomorrow if someone gives it at Rs 9, we are willing to buy it even if it is an atom bomb. Pricing, competition and competitiveness don't matter. If you want to save your children, start vigorously on the handmade sector, because only that can bring down carbon emissions. It can produce alternate politics to BJP or Congress. It can bring back God and faith.

Won't modernisation and handmade sectors need to be in balance?

Well, it will get balanced. You make a start. Of course, you will not be able to drop every machine in one go. Just take the first step, and then things will follow. Handmaking may be the hundredth step, but if you have the direction clear, the first step will guide you towards it.

What is the relevance of Gandhian values today?

We have been talking too much about Gandhian values, while neglecting the Gandhian lifestyle. How did Gandhiji evolve that lifestyle which later made him evolve all those greater values? Before he started politics in India, he went around for a year and studied the people of this country and observed how wretched and poor they were. He also observed how strong they were from within despite poverty. He took the shape of those peasants and also embedded all the great values. Unless you change your shape, not just externally, but entirely, the values will not come.

Do you think the initiatives taken by the government help the handmade sector?

Can you imagine, on the day of the 75th year of the celebration of freedom, they dropped khadi from the flag? I am sorry to say this: they have killed khadi. The cotton processing factory for khadi is closed, spinning has almost stopped. When we don't even care for the symbol, where are we caring for the actual?

What do you suggest?

If I had any confidence, I would have given suggestions. I have been giving suggestions for three decades. They all nod their heads in great humility, but inside their mind, they will be thinking that this old man is talking about a sunset industry. I just want them to quit. I am not talking politically, this party or that party, they all need to quit.

You had launched a hunger strike demanding zero GST on handmade products...

They agreed, but didn't do it. That is the standard practice with all governments. The GST has become a much bigger threat to India ... to our decentralised polity. States are getting a raw deal in GST. We can be a moral force if people want to listen. I am trying to do some things in theatre. I find theatre equally important in this situation because theatre is as handmade as khadi. Hopefully, I will be able to introduce some of these ideas through theatre to young people.

What are your suggestions to political parties to promote khadi and Gandhian values?

I don't want to give any suggestions. Who do I believe? The best of them are stuck in the same format. I was a Marxist half my life, but Marxists are also stuck in the same groove. They have not been able to handle the big economy and globalisation. Today is the time when you should think beyond politics, and focus on the social-cultural sector. I think if we get the courage to do that, then politics will change. I am not suggesting that we should completely neglect politics, but for the time being let us think of civilisational and sociocultural issues; only then, maybe, we will be able to inspire people.

UDUPI: Bhopal MP Sadhvi Pragya Singh Thakur will be attending this year's 'Durga Doud', which will be organised by the Hindu Jagarana Vedike (HJV), here on Sunday.
On the occasion, a procession will be carried out by thousands of people from Sri Mahishamardini Temple, Kadiyali, to Sri Krishna Matha, around 2.30 pm. Umesh Naik Sooda, the district convener of HJV, said, "The event's purpose is to imbibe the battle spirit of the warriors from the past, among the youths of our community."

Officials refuse help, 79-yr-old brought to sub-registrar's office on stretcher

SUNIL PATIL @ Belagavi

Kin attend to Mahadevi Agasimani, who is on the stretcher, in Belagavi

THIS could be the height of apathy of government officials. A bed-ridden 79-year-old woman, who was admitted to hospital, was brought to the sub-registrar's office on a stretcher to put her signature and thumb impression on property papers at Tilakwadi village in Belagavi on Friday.

It is said that the relatives of the elderly woman, Mahadevi Agasimani, a resident of Hire Bagewadi village of Belagavi, had no other choice but to bring her to the sub-registrar's office as the officials demanded a whopping Rs 2 lakh bribe to attend to her at the hospital. But the government allows the "private attendance" option, where officials have to visit the beneficiaries and do the necessary work after they pay Rs 1,000 as an additional fee.

Mahadevi suffers from multiple age-related ailments and has been in hospital for a while. She wanted to divide her farm land measuring 2 acres 35 guntas between her two children, Vidya Hosamani (54) and Ravindranath Gurappa Agasimani (51). After drawing up the papers, the family requested the officials to do the needful at the hospital as Mahadevi was bedridden.

When the family put in the request, officials refused to visit her at the hospital. Her relatives were also not told about private attendance. But the family members refused to comment, fearing that their property deal would be stalled.

Assistant Sub-Registrar Sachin Manded said he was on leave on Friday, but added Sub-registrar Padmanabh Gudhi was at office. He said the family did not apply for private attendance. District Registrar Shivkumar Aparanji said, "I have asked for an explanation. I will take disciplinary action for misleading people about private attendance."

JDS workers attack Yogishwar in Channapatna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AHEAD of the 2023 Assembly polls, Ramanagara district, a Vokkaliga bastion, is boiling politically with supporters of JDS senior leader and former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy, who represents the Channapatna Assembly constituency in the district, attacked BJP MLC CP Yogishwar at a ground-breaking ceremony for development works at Byrapatna village on Saturday.

JDS workers threw eggs and stones at Yogishwar's car, as they were angry that Kumaraswamy was not invited for the event, as per protocol, being the MLA from the region.

Kumaraswamy, too, said the government, the MLC and officials concerned were responsible for the incident as they kept him in the dark about the ceremony despite him being a former chief minister representing the constituency. " To safeguard the interests of a nominated MLC that too under the artist quota, the officials have violated the protocol," he alleged.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai criticised JDS workers, tweeting, "I strongly condemn this attack. Whatever the matter is, it should be settled legally and no one should take law in to their own hands."

Kumaraswamy said, "I will bring the privilege motion in the next session if the government fails to immediately suspend the KRIDL (Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Ltd) and the district level officers concerned."

He said it was a deliberate act by the MLC and district incharge minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan to corner him politically in the constituency. "But I am ready for any eventuality. If the scam with regard to the BMS Educational Trust deed amendment is probed, the minister will have to go to jail." He had earlier alleged in the Assembly that the minister had committed an illegality by allowing the trust deed amendment.

While JDS workers were throwing eggs at Yogishwar, some fell on the village deity. Sensing that the situation was going out of control, the police lathicharged and dispersed the protesters. Over a hundred people were taken into custody.

As there was trouble brewing since Friday evening at Ramapura, the police had deployed additional forces at the village. The protest against Yogishwar and Ashwath Narayan was led by taluk JDS president Jayamuttu.

Yogishwar alleged that Kumaraswamy sponsored the agitation as he is frustrated that he will lose the 2023 election.

The road works, to be taken up spending Rs 50 crore, will benefit Byrapura, Kondamballi and Rampura villages.

> I will bring the privilege motion in the next session if the government fails to immediately suspend the KRIDL (Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Ltd) and the district level officers concerned

CPM leader Kodiyeri no more

The five-time Assembly member dies at a Chennai hospital aged 68

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Thiruvananthapuram

KERALA CPM's smiling face is no more. Senior CPM leader and politburo member Kodiyeri Balakrishnan passed away at Apollo Hospital in Chennai on Saturday. He was 68.

A five-time MLA, he had also served as the state home minister from 2006 to 2011. A three-time CPM state secretary, he served in that capacity till the last week of August this year. Kodiyeri had been undergoing treatment at Apollo Hospital for the past one month.

Born on November 16, 1953, he completed his studies at Kodiyeri Oniyan High School, Mahatma Gandhi College, Mahe and University College, Thiruvananthapuram. At the age of 17, he joined politics as a CPM member. An active leader of Kerala Students' Federation, he served as the SFI state secretary and later as its all-India joint secretary between 1973 and 1979.

Kodiyeri had a meteoric rise in the party since his term as the students' federation secretary. The Emergency period was a crucial episode in his political life when he underwent 16 months of imprisonment under MISA during 1975-1977. He was elected the Kannur district president of DYFI in 1980. The same year, he married daughter of then Thalassery MLA M V Rajagopalan. Later, he got elected to the CPM district committee and became the district secretary.

He got elected to the assembly from Thalassery constituency in 1982, 1987, 2001, 2006 and 2011. He served as the minister for home and tourism in the V S Achuthanandan government from 2006 to 2011. Later in 2011, when the Oommen Chandy government came to power, he was the deputy opposition leader under VS. Kodiyeri had also served as the state secretary of the All India Kisan Sabha and a member of the AIKS Council. In 2003, Kodiyeri made it to the CPM central committee. In 2008, while serving as the home minister, he got elected to the party politburo at the 19th party congress held in Coimbatore.

Cong in Kerala divided over supporting Tharoor

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @T'Puram

A day after Thiruvananthapuram MP Shashi Tharoor filed his nomination papers for the Congress presidential election, the Kerala unit of the Congress is divided on supporting him. While party state president K Sudhakaran, Opposition Leader VD Satheesan and his predecessor Ramesh Chennithala openly batted for the party's official candidate, Mallikarjuna Kharge, several second rung and young leaders took to their social media accounts endorsing flamboyant Tharoor.

Following scrutiny by central election committee chairman Madhusudan Mistry, the nomination papers of Jharkhand minister K N Tripathi were rejected, leaving only Kharge and Tharoor in the fray. The top leaders of the party in Kerala said they want to see a Dalit leader becoming the Congress president.

Satheesan ruled out that Tharoor's candidature would create division in the party. Chennithala was also quick to react on his "good friend" Tharoor's candidature. "At this juncture, it is ideal to see Kharge emerging as the Congress president. The party has always appreciated Tharoor's calibre and used him well," said Chennithala.

Tharoor does not think so, though. In a TV channel interview on Saturday, he revealed his unhappiness at the party underutilising him. Later in the evening, Tharoor also released the list of 60 leaders from across the country who had proposed his name in the nomination papers. Thirteen of them are from Kerala, including Kozhikode MP M K Raghavan. Interestingly, several youth leaders like MP Hibi Eden and Youth Congress state vice-president Sabarinadhan, took to social rallying behind Tharoor. Sabarinadhan said there is a strong current in favour of Tharoor as the ground-level party workers need rejuvenation. A senior Congress MP said Tharoor has struck a chord by brandishing his connection with the youth.

CPI meet critical of Kerala govt over UAPA

ANIL S @ T'Puram

Despite the Kerala government, especially the home department under Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan, drawing severe flak at district conferences, the party reports at the CPI state conference softened criticism against the government.

Sources said the reports were initially highly critical of the government and the state leadership decided to tone down the same.

The Left government in the state imposing UAPA occasionally questions the Left's moral right to raise its voice against such draconian legislations, observed the CPI, which then went on to term these incidents a deviation from Leftist ideals.

The Kerala government's use of UAPA (Unlawful Activities Prevention Act) in the state drew major criticism in the political and organisational reports at the ongoing CPI state conference here on Saturday.

The CPI underscored the need for consultations within the front and consensus in the functioning of the Left government.

The political report, which says setting up a model alternative is the LDF's political mission, further goes on to condemn inaction by the Left front on certain pertinent criticism raised by the CPI in the last state conference in Malappuram. Even while the Left strongly opposes UAPA at the national level, it is unfortunately being implemented, albeit rarely, at the state level. It questions the Left front's moral right to question such undesirable legalisations. The report also highlights the human rights violations and murders as part of Maoist hunt in the state.

The organisational report further pointed out that the LDF system per se still remains restricted to upper echelons. It also stressed on the need to have a Left front system at even the panchayat level. The report also pointed to the major opposition towards the SilverLine project. Concerns related to environmental and social impact due to the project should be addressed, said the report.

State anthem row: Karnataka HC issues notice to govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday issued notice to the State Government after hearing a petition filed against the order issued for rendition of State anthem 'Jayabharatha Jananiya Thanujathe' in a tune composed by Mysore Ananthaswamy.

The court was hearing a petition filed by Kikkeri Krishna Murthy, one of the singers of the tune composed by late Dr C Ashwath. The petition stated that the entire state was singing the anthem in a tune composed by C Ashwath, after declaring the full text of the poem as an anthem by the government, through an order in 2004. Though both committees led by Vasantha Kanakapura and Dr Channaveera Kanavi recommended continuing the tune composed by Ashwath, the committee headed by singer Vidwan HR Leelavathi had recommended rendition of the tune of Mysore Ananthaswamy in 2021. At this juncture, a representation was submitted to the chief secretary and others to bring to their notice that Ananthaswamy had not composed the entire tune to the anthem, the same was not considered and the impugned order was passed on September 25, 2022, the petitioner alleged.

It was stated that the impugned order is impossible to implement, since there is no full tune of the anthem by Ananthaswamy, and the government has to get another portion of tune from a third person. In that situation, it amounts to showing disrespect to Ananthaswamy and as well as anthem, the petitioner claimed.

INFLATION, HIS MAJESTY'S POUND AND KING DOLLAR

THE THIRD EYE

SHANKKAR AIYAR
Author of The Gated Republic, Aadhaar: A Biometric History of India's 12 Digit Revolution, and Accidental India
shankkar.aiyar@gmail.com

THEY say a week is a long time in politics. It is true for the global economy too. Harold Wilson's quip during the Sterling crisis of 1964 resonated across UK and global financial markets this week. The sterling (pound/cable) cost two dollars and 80 cents in 1964. This week His Majesty's pound was, well, pounded down to a dollar and three cents by King Dollar.

Context matters for policy – particularly when regimes lean on history to reincarnate economic growth. In 1942 John Maynard Keynes observed, "Anything we can actually do, we can afford...." We are immeasurably richer than our predecessors." Britain was ruch. In 2022 its GDP ranks below India and its economy depends on what Mark Carney described as 'the kindness of strangers'. Keynes was advocating the engineering of policy to create public goods, not private enrichment. The policies unveiled by the Liz Truss government validated what Rishi Sunak dubbed fairy tale economics and triggered a rebuke from the IMF , a ratings review by S&P and panic in the markets.

The turmoil saw liquidity evaporate, forcing three large economies to intervene. In the UK a meltdown in the pension funds following a crash in the value of bonds forced the Bank of England to fork out 65 billion pounds. Earlier, the Bank of Japan intervened to halt the precipitous slide of the Japanese Yen past 145 per dollar. In China, the People's Bank of China stepped in and warned markets' not to gamble on one-way depreciation' as the Yuan plunged to 7.24 per dollar.

In the United States, yields on the benchmark 10 year paper nudged past 4 per cent triggering fears in emerging markets. A stronger dollar has impacted earnings of listed multinations. Equity indices in the US recorded the third successive quarter of declines – the benchmark S&P, Nasdaq 100 and Dow Jones are down 21 per cent this calendar year.

The crux of the carnage is the persistence of inflation. The burden of easy money printed in developed economies during the pandemic is roasting economies across the globe. Even as central banks struggled to contain inflation, aggravation arrived in the form of over $ 500 billion in 'consumer protection' inducted by governments in Europe and the UK – this week, Germany cleared a 200 billion Euro package. In August 1975, Milton Friedman published the seminal tome 'There's No Such Thing as a Free Lunch. A year later, in 1976, Margaret Thatcher famously said socialist governments always run out of other people's money. The lessons have come home to haunt - ironically, in 2022, Britain is running out of money under a Tory regime.

By definition, inflation is too much money chasing too few goods. It is true that earlier supply chain disruptions, higher energy prices and food scarcity impacted inflation. That, though, is no longer the case. Supply shortages have eased – companies like Nike are wrestling with higher inventories. Energy prices are down with crude oil in the mid-eighties. Energy prices are down with crude oil in the mid-eighties. The villain now in the popular commentary is the tight labour market. The US Federal Reserve is trying to lower inflation by pushing unemployment higher.

What is not being debated is the workforce gap and demographic challenge faced by the US, Europe and post-Brexit Britain. Wage costs also depend on demand and supply. A study by Giovanni Peri and Reem Zaiour at the University of California, Davis shows that "by the end of 2021, there were about 2 million fewer working age immigrants in the US than there would have been if the immigration trend had continued unchanged".

The front loading of steep interest rate hikes to curb demand and engineer unemployment to tamp down inflation comes with risks. Since March, the US Federal Reserve has hiked interest rates from 0.25 to 3.25 per cent and aims to touch 4.5 per cent. To appreciate the pace of hikes, one must consult history. The last rate hike cycle stretched from 0.25 per cent in December 2015 to 2.5 per cent in December 2018. In effect, the US Fed has hiked rates higher in six months of 2022 than it did in three years! Yet inflation continues to rage. It is now feared that the systemic shock to financial stability witnessed in Britain could knock on the doors of developed and vulnerable markets.

Beyond the systemic risk, the approach has implications for global trade and growth and, therefore, the Indian economy. The RBI has expended over $45 billion, its reserves are down to $ 537 billion and the rupee has slid from 79.94 and is hovering around 82 per dollar. This week the Reserve Bank of India hiked repo rates by 50 basis points to take it to 5.9 per cent and trimmed its growth projection to 7 per cent. In an exhibition of verbal callisthenics, the RBI has stated that the repo rate is lower than pre-pandemic levels and has hinted that it may have to raise rates further.

India is better placed, but it cannot afford to be sanguine. Yes, it needs to recast its macro fundamentals to guardrail the economy and illuminate its relative merit. The larger question is can the circumstance of competitive rate hikes persist? The world cannot lurch from the brink of one crisis to another. This December India assumes the presidency of G20. The risk of systemic shocks and export of rate hike recession must find place on the agenda.

TIME TO RETHINK JAISHANKAR FACTOR

A prized quality in a top politically savvy diplomat is the ability to nuance the most binary postures. And diplomacy is the art of using nuances to make powerful points. One of the most nuanced of India's prime ministers, Atal Behari Vajpayee, had quipped: "Quiet diplomacy is far more effective than public posturing". Two decades later, the foreign office team chosen by his saffron successor Narendra Modi practices the Diplomacy of Confrontation where national interests are concerned. But of late, they don't seem to be the ones who set the tone. Ex-envoy turned freelance politician, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar believes that aggression is the best posture to demolish contrarians. A trained diplomat with experience and linkage, he has faithfully and blindly adopted BJP's aggressive domestic copybook, which he seems to be blotting alarmingly. India's relations with the superpowers and some neighbouring nations are worse than before. Forget about strategic setbacks on a geopolitical scale, even a mundane matter like visas for Indians is a torment for Indian embassy staff. For the first time since Independence, Indians must reportedly have to wait more than two years to get a US visa, even to meet their families or attend marriages. Students were put in even greater difficulty. Canada refused a visa to internationally acclaimed sand artist Sudarshan Patnaik in time to speak and travel to receive an award. Most European countries, too, aren't accepting Visa applications from Indians — the Chinese get preference.

When Modi handpicked Jaishankar as his Foreign Minister, a change for the better was expected. JS is a unique diplomat who has been the Indian ambassador to both China and America. He is also the only ex-babu to be catapulted from a post retirement corporate job into the foreign minister's chair with Cabinet rank. He has visited 75 countries, some more than once, spending almost every fifth day abroad. He is the only minister to spend two continuous weeks in the US to meet his counterpart, address the UNGA, and meet Think Tanks, corporate leaders and other VIPs on his bucket list. However, India doesn't have Most Favoured Nation status in any important country. Jaishankar said in New York last week: "On mobility, specifically visas, this is particularly crucial given its centrality to education, business, technology, and family reunions." His US counterpart Antony Blinken's response on visas and America's $450 million service package for F16s to Pakistan was vague. The State Department claimed it was helping Islamabad "fight terror", a ridiculous claim considering Pakistan's odious bedfellows are Tehrik-i-Taliban, Lashkar-e-Taiba and Jaish-e-Mohammed. Jaishankar's lame response was, "I flagged it to Secretary Blinken and ... For someone to say I am doing this because it is all counter-terrorism content and so when you are talking of an aircraft like a capability of an F-16 where everybody knows, you know where they are deployed and their use. You are not fooling anybody by saying these things," The time has come for Modi to ponder if allowing a babu lacking political legitimacy and statecraft to defend our global stakes is enhancing Modi's Vishwaguru status.

S Jaishankar

Gen Anil Chauhan

R Venkataramani

IT'S ALL IN THE STARS IN SERVICE MATTERS

Act first and think later appears to be the mantra of the top Central bureaucracy which second guesses the political leadership by first identifying a candidate and then framing the rules. After delaying the appointment of the new Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) after General Bipin Rawat died, the Defence Ministry's decision to appoint Lt General Anil Chauhan (retired) has led the defence establishment down the protocol rabbit hole. General Rawat, also from Uttarakhand, was Army chief who was made CDS just a day after he was to retire. But Chauhan had retired almost a year ago and was part of the National Security Council led by NSA Ajit Doval, another famous son of Uttarakhand. The selection of the new CDS was made without properly considering the implications of appointing a superannuated three star general over four star chiefs of all the forces. As Military Secretary, Chauhan reports to the Defence Secretary. As CDS, he is military advisor to the Nuclear Command Authority chaired by the Prime Minister. The CDS is the permanent Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff Committee comprising all three service chiefs. South Block mandarins and Defence experts were baffled how an officer, junior in rank to the Army, Air Force and Navy chiefs, could preside over a meeting.

To solve the unprecedented dilemma, Chauhan was simply given an extra star before taking over; it's the first time a retired army officer had been promoted to a higher rank. Yet it would resolve the sensitivity of connected with seniority. All the existing Chiefs acquired four stars much before him and are technically senior to him even after Chauhan's inexplicable elevation. Internal dissent and General Rawat's excessive interference in politically sensitive issues had forced the government to downgrade the post. Since Chouhan was military advisor to the National Security Council Secretariat (NSCN) headed by the omnipotent Doval, walking their tightrope won't be a problem.

PM CLEANSING INDIAN LEGAL HERITAGE OF COLONIAL BAGGAGE

All important public appointments have unmistakable Modi hues. When Senior Advocate R Venkataramani was announced as the 16th Attorney General of India to replace 91 year old K K Venugopal, even the most informed and well connected legal eagles and political pundits were taken aback. Cerebral counsel and former AGI Mukul Rohatgi had declined the job for personal reasons. The low profile, well spoken Venkataramani isn't a habitué of corridors of powers. His mentor is the revered ex-AGI K Parasaran, who was perhaps consulted by the Prime Minister.

Venkataramani had argued in favour of the Hijab ban in the Supreme Court, and Modi was looking for an ideologically compatible law officer with many crucial judgments coming up. Venkataramani, representing a teacher who supported the ban, had argued, "The absence of assertion of the identities is a conducive environment to inculcate values about the diversity..." and rooted for "a free and unhindered atmosphere where teachers can communicate with the students without a wall of separation". It was music to Modi's ears. Moreover, many important cases, like Abrogation of Article 370, etc., are going to come up for a final hearing, and the government needs a law officer for whom conviction isn't a matter of convenience. Moreover, PM has been championing the values of the ancient Indian legal system without colonial baggage. Also, Venkataramani's choice as AGI and Kiren Rijiju's selection as Law Minister are seen as part of Modi's campaign to purge the Lutyen's mafia from all centres of power.

DEATHS due to manual scavenging are a recurring phenomenon in India today. So much so that even the Supreme Court in 2019 noted that "In no country, people are sent to gas chambers to die. Every month 4-5 people lose their lives due to manual scavenging". It is appalling to note that the practice had taken hundreds of lives even after being criminalised way back in 2013 when Parliament enacted the 'Prevention of Employment as Manual Scavengers and their Rehabilitation Act, 2013'.

The 2013 Act did three broad things. It criminalised manual scavenging, sought to provide for their alternative employment and fixed the responsibility on the local authorities to implement the Act. The larger goal of the Act was to correct the historical wrongs and injustice meted out to the SC & ST community members who had been engaged in such a dehumanising practice for decades because of the highly iniquitous caste system. This social menace has existed for thousands of years now and has been promoted by a Brahmanical social order.

However, not even a single conviction has occurred in the last nine years. Last year, the government told the Rajya Sabha that 66,692 manual scavengers had been identified so far. On the one hand, the government claimed that no deaths had occurred due to manual scavenging, but on the other admitted that more than 900 people had died while cleaning sewers and septic tanks.

The above distinction between 'manual scavenging' and 'cleaning sewers and septic tanks' is flawed and distorted because those who die while cleaning sewers and septic tanks are none other than manual scavengers themselves. This is also true because all claims to mechanise sewer cleaning have failed and have not been implemented on the ground. And yet, the 'Kaka Kalelkar Commission' had called for the mechanisation of sewer cleaning in 1956.

The 2013 Act did not do anything different. It laid the responsibility for using modern technologies for cleaning sewers on local authorities and agencies. However, municipal corruption and lack of awareness in Panchayats plus deeply entrenched social prejudice favouring discriminatory behaviours and attitudes against a particular community. That led to the failure of the mechanisation dream. Manual scavengers continue to work under life-threatening conditions without safety gear and proper equipment. They risk suffering severe health hazards such as asphyxiation due to inhaling poisonous gases or contracting severe diseases. They are also met with social ostracism, suffer untouchability and are abysmally low-wage workers.

The Supreme Court took note of their plight in two important and landmark judgments - Safai Karamchari Andolan & ors. Vs. Union of India (2013) & Delhi Jal Board vs. National Campaign & Ors. (2011). In the 2011 judgment, the Apex Court in the words of Justice G.S. Singhvi, observed that "The human beings who are employed for doing the work in the sewers cannot be treated as mechanical robots, who may not be affected by poisonous gases in the manholes."

Unfortunately, the state's only response to the above concern has been to roll out policy initiatives that aim to solve the problem only through a top-down approach instead of a bottom-up one. For instance, the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, which aims to make India open defecation free and is an effort to achieve universal sanitation coverage, does not focus on the faulty designs of septic tanks across India that are not machine friendly. The campaign instead goes on to aggressively build toilets across the country based on the same old design that will eventually need manual scavengers to clean them. This further perpetuates social evil and institutionalises indifference as a method of governance.

Another big failure of the state has been its complete ignorance of the intersectional issues of discrimination and the plight of women manual scavengers in the country. While the men are tasked with getting into the sewers, women are made to clean dry toilets and ferry excreta. It is even harder for them to escape this cycle, and they face far more brutality than men if they refuse to work. Policy initiatives, therefore, cannot anymore continue to look at the community of manual scavengers from a single lens.

Seventy-five years post Independence, we haven't quite fulfilled his goal of a 'social democracy'. India continues to treat a certain section of its population as if they are children of a lesser god. We need to change that, and we need to change that soon.

Stop beating students

This has reference to the news "Jharkhand teacher thrashes class VI students for not dancing properly, arrested". Recently we have read news that two students died in two incidents in Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh because of savage beating by their teachers which showed their intolerance and impatience with their students. The fault of students is they were unable to dance properly and the dance performance was to be cancelled which infuriated the teacher who could not digest the cancellation of program. Teachers need orientation programmes to avoid corporal punishments.

Caution to BBMP

As a citizen of Bengaluru, I welcome the high court's warning to BBMP engineers that their salary will be put on hold if they fail to remove the encroachments on Rajakaluves under their jurisdiction. As only 10 encroachments have been cleared in ten days' time, I wonder how much time they need to clear 592 more encroachments. And in the meantime, the city may yet again face flooding.

Compensation from PFI

The Kerala High Court directed PFI and its state General Secretary to deposit money for damage caused to the government and KSRTC, Kerala's public carrier during the outfit's September 23 hartal (NIE September 30 2022). This is exactly what condemnable incidents of widespread anarchy and damage to public property witnessed during the hartal demand. Hope this serves as deterrence to those who declare hartals at the drop of the hat and to perpetrators of violence during such hartals in future.

Abortion rights

According to Supreme Court's current landmark ruling, women are fully entitled to decide on abortion without external interference or influence. The benefits in law extend to unmarried women also who have intrinsic rights to abort within 24 weeks of pregnancy. A survey highlights that one in four adults in India do not like to get married but many of them develop intimacy with their girl friends by promising to get married and then ditch them after the girls become preganent. To wipe out their shame, the hapless girls run from pillar to post to abort. Sometimes such pregnant women are ostracised by their families and villages too. The court ruling comes as a blessing.

Indore retains cleanest city tag for 6th year

Surat and Navi Mumbai rank 2nd and 3rd; MP cleanest among states; Haridwar neatest among Ganga towns

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDORE continued to retain the India's cleanliest city rank for the sixth consecutive term in a Pan-India Swachh Survekshan-2022. The result of the survey was declared on Saturday.

At an event organised on Saturday by Union Housing and Urban Affairs Ministry, President Droupadi Murmu distributed the awards to the winners, which was attended by Union Housing and Urban Affairs Minister Hardeep Singh Puri and a galaxy of other dignitaries.

The survey is conducted across country's all mega cities since 2016. Indore has maintained its position as the cleanest city ever since. This year Indores has been followed by Surat, which is also globally famous for its silk weaving and textiles commercial activities besides diamond trading. It gained the second position in terms of having highest volume of cleanliness maintained across the city.

Owing to its consecutive record as India's cleanest city, Indore has become the most preferred destination for travellers. It is said that Indore has its own waste management system also and the volume of garbage generated in the city is disposed off through well-established door-to-door garbage collection system. In Indore, door-to-door service was started in January 2016 as a pilot projects in 2 out of its 84 wards, which later spread across all wards. "After a year, Indore succeeded in achieving 100% door-to-door garbage collection with wider participation of citizens in keeping the city cleans," said some residents of the city.

After Surat, Navi Mumbai- one of the well -planned cities of India in Maharashtra, has been adjudged as the thrid cleanest.

According to official sources, Madhya Pradesh has secured the first position in the category of best performing states in 'Swachh Survekshan Awards 2022'. Madhya Pradesh has been followed by Chhattisgarh and Maharashtra.

At a time when Indore and Surat succeeded in retaining their top positions in the big cities category this year, Vijaywada lost its third spot to Navi Mumbai despite of many efforts being taken to maintain its cleanliness ranking maintained.

Detailing further, official survey report states that Tripura is cleanest among the states having fewer than 100 urban local bodies.

Maharashtra's Panchganj was ranked on first position in the category of cities having population less than one lakh, followed by Chhattisgarh's Patan and Maharashtra's Karhad cities.

Uttrakhand's famous pilgrimage city, Haridwar, has also been adjudged the cleanest Ganga town in the category of more than 1 lakh population, followed by Varanasi and Rishikesh.

Besides these, Bijnor has been ranked the first among Ganga towns with less than one lakh population, followed by Kannauj and Garhmukhteshwar respectively.

In the same way, Maharashtra's Deolali city has also been adjudged the country's cleanest Cantonment Board in the 7th edition of Swarchh Survekshan, conducted with aim to study the progress of the Swachh Bharat Mission (Urban) and rank the Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) based on various cleanliness and sanitation parameters.

The Swachh Survekshan assessed 4,354 cities this year as compared to 73 in 2016.

CLEANEST INDIAN CITIES & STATES

The Swachh Survekshan 2022 has conducted an assessment of 4,354 cities and come up with following results:

No 1 rank held by Indore as India's cleanest city for the 6th time in a row

2nd & 3rd are Surat and Navi Mumbai

Haridwar adjudged the cleanest Ganga town in the category of more than 1 lakh population, followed by Varanasi and Rishikesh

No 1 position among states has been secured by MP

2nd & 3rd positions secured by Chhattisgarh and Maharashtra.

No 1 rank held by Tripura among states having fewer than 100 urban local bodies

No 1 rank held by Panchgani among cities with less than 1 lakh population

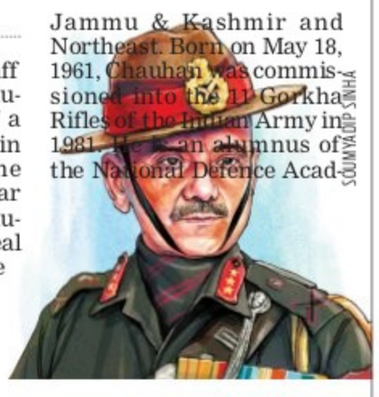
Bijnor was ranked the first among Ganga towns with fewer than 1 lakh population, followed by Kannauj and Garhmukteshwar

Deolali adjudged the country's cleanest Cantonment Board

GEN ANIL CHAUHAN

NEW CDS STEPS IN TO CARRY OUT RAWAT'S REFORMS

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi



SOUMYADIP SINHA

NEW Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) General Anil Chauhan's book Aftermath of a Nuclear Attack, written in 2010, delves deep into the complex world of nuclear weapons and aims to educate Indian officials to deal with different intricate scenarios that may emerge in future. It is 'a case study on post-strike operations' that provides a peep into his ability to anticipate upcoming events and prepare a roadmap of possible solutions. Thus, his colleagues in the military believe that Gen Chauhan will be able to eliminate the ambiguity shrouding the proposed reforms necessary for the nation's security and defence. These reforms have been planned both at structural and human resource levels.

Gen. Chauhan was a three-star general who was promoted to four-star rank and assumed charge of CDS, nine months after the death of Gen. Bipin Rawat. According to the Defence Ministry, he will function as secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Military Affairs. The reforms introduced by Gen Rawat came to an abrupt end in December 2021 when died in a helicopter crash. There had been questions raised on the post of CDS itself.

So, as the new CDS, Gen Anil Chauhan has a humongous task at hand of making sure that the unfinished job of his predecessor is completed meticulously. "He is not only to create military structure like theatre commands to meet the requirement of modern warfare but also has to rationalise the human resources to raise a formidable mix of manpower commensurate to the warfare requirements," Lt Gen VK Chaturvedi (retd) who has known CDS since long told this newspaper.

"His demeanour is amiable and graceful but at the same time he is capable of taking hard decisions which will help him to take forward the reforms introduced by Gen Rawat," added Chaturvedi.

Chauhan happens to be three-course senior to the serving chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force. In a career spanning over nearly 40 years, Gen Chauhan had held several commands, staff and instrumental appointments and had extensive experience in counter-insurgency operations in Jammu & Kashmir and Northeast. Born on May 18, 1961, Chauhan was commissioned into the 11 Gorkha Rifles of the Indian Army in 1981. He is an alumnus of the National Defence Academy, Khadakwasla and Indian Military Academy, Dehradun.

In the rank of Major General, he had commanded an Infantry Division in the critical Baramula sector in the Northern Command. Later as Lt General, he commanded a corps in the Northeast and subsequently went to become the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief of the Eastern Command from September 2019 and held the charge until his retirement from the service in May 2021.

As a CDS, the primary task of Chauhan will be to not only think about navigating the military reforms but he also has to envisage strategic needs of the country and come out with solutions, says Maj Gen Ajay Seth (retd).

NEWSMAKER

"Post his retirement as the Eastern Army Commander, he has been a military advisor to the NSA for around a year as part of the National Security Council Secretariat and thus he has been exposed to national security and strategic issues which will keep him in good stead as the CDS," said Maj Gen Seth, who has observed Gen Chauhan quite closely in the service.

But Maj Gen Seth also emphasised that the job of Gen Chauhan would be quite challenging and he would need time to understand today's defence scenario and then act accordingly. However, Seth believes that Gen Chauhan will be able to deliver as CDS because he reposes faith in officers and inspires them to conduct business smoothly without pressure.

"Qualities of his head and heart will help him bring together all services in tandem, reconfiguring military structure and formation of theatre commands," said a senior military officer.

CDS Anil Chauhan is married to Mrs Anupama Chauhan who is said to be an artist by profession. The two are blessed with a daughter named Pragya Chauhan.

BJP may pick Dalit or EBC face to lead party in Bihar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

BJP is likely to appoint the next party chief in Bihar from the Schedule Castes (SCs) or the extremely backward classes (EBCs). The move, necessitated after the party's break-up from alliance partner JDU, will be targeted to attract sections of marginalised groups in the state.

The name of former MP from Bihar's Gopalganj district Janak Ram is racing head among others as the most probable choice for the Bihar BJP chief. The BJP sources on Saturday said that wider consultation to approve a name for the Bihar unit of the party has started on top level of party's decision-making body. Sources said that discussions are being held to adjust marginalised castes like SCs and EBCs in party's top leadership.

The three-year term of the present party chief in Bihar, Sanjay Jaiswal, who is an MP from West Champaran, will end on October 23. Though Jaiswal is an OBC, his name for the second consecutive term has reportedly been rejected amid the emerging political scenario in Bihar in the aftermath of BJP's alliance break up with JDU. "The party high command seems to be of the opinion that only the party chief, belonging to SC or EBC community, can challenge the political hegemony of Nitish Kumar-led Mahagatvandhan in Bihar," said a senior party functionary. Meanwhile, the party has finalised the second visit of party's principal strategist and Union Home Minister Amit Shah visit on October 11 in Bihar's Saran district after recent 2-day visit in Seemanchal region. It is believed that the name of Bihar's new party chief will get approved after Shah's visit to Saran.

Other prominent names, after Janak Ram, among others, doing the rounds for Bihar new party chief are of Ajay Nishad, an MP, who belongs to Nishad community.

SC calls preventive detention invasion of personal liberty, sets aside order

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

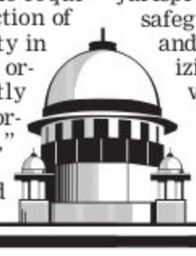
OPINING that unreasonable delay in passing detention order can snap "live and proximate link" between prejudicial activities and purpose of detention of a person, the SC recently set aside a detention order passed by Tripura government five months after the receipt of proposal.

"Object of the preventive detention, it becomes very imperative on the part of the detaining authority as well as the executing authorities to remain vigilant and keep their eyes skinned but not to turn a blind eye in passing the detention order at the earliest from the date of the proposal and executing the detention order because any indifferent attitude on the part of the detaining authority or executing authority would defeat the very purpose of the preventive action and turn the detention order as a dead letter and frustrate the entire proceedings," the court said.

A bench of CJI UU Lalit, Justice SR Bhat and JB Pardiwala held that unreasonable delay between getting a proposal and passing an order for detention would make the order invalid.

"If there is unreasonable delay between the date of the order of detention & actual arrest of the detenu and in the same manner from the date of the proposal and passing of the order of detention, such delay unless satisfactorily explained throws a considerable doubt on the genuineness of the requisite subjective satisfaction of the detaining authority in passing the detention order and consequently render the detention order bad and invalid," court said.

The court also said preventive detention is a serious invasion of personal liberty. "... In prevention detention jurisprudence whatever little safeguards the Constitution and the enactments authorizing such detention provide assume utmost importance and must be strictly adhered to," the apex court also said.



Diversity on bench represents regions, minorities and cultures, says Ramana

NEW DELHI: Noting that diversity on the bench leads to a diversity of opinions, one that is built upon their different experiences in the world, former CJI NV Ramana on Saturday said that one of the facets for improving this is ensuring representation of persons belonging to minorities, regions and culture. Speaking at the summit on Cultural Diversity and the Legal Profession organised by Asian Australian Lawyers Association, Ramana also said that during his tenure as the CJI he attempted to ensure the appointment of judges from diverse backgrounds. "In all my time in the various collegia, and particularly during my time as the Chief Justice of India, I tried to ensure diverse representation on the Bench through the recommendations we sent. Almost all the recommendations made by us were cleared by the Government of India. I can proudly state that our recommendations resulted in the appointment of the greatest number of women judges on the Bench in the Supreme Court of India at any one point of time. India is also slated to get her first woman Chief Justice of India," Ramana said. He acknowledged the absence of an institutional mechanism to ensure diversity on the bench.

Husband's duty to support wife, minor kids: SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court recently observed that it is the sacrosanct duty of the husband to provide financial support to the wife and to the minor children. A bench of Justices Dinesh Maheshwari and Bela M Trivedi also said husband is required to earn money even by physical labour, if he is an able-bodied, and could not avoid his obligation, except on the legally permissible grounds mentioned in the statute.

Laying emphasis on the legislative intention behind implementation of section 125 of CrPC which deals with maintenance of wives, children and parents the court said section was conceived to ameliorate the agony, anguish and financial suffering of a woman who is required to leave the matrimonial home, so that some suitable arrangements could be made to enable her to sustain herself and the children.

"Section 125 CrPC is a measure of social justice and is specially enacted to protect women and children," the court also said.

MoRTH seeks suggestions to fight stray cattle menace

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

WITH the stray cattle menace on the national highways turning 'serious' and causing fatal accidents, the ministry of road transport and highways (MoRTH) has decided to frame guidelines to prevent animal trespassing. The MoRTH has sought feedback and suggestion from the government agencies involved in road development projects—National Highway Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited (NHIDCL), National Highways Authority of India (NHAI), public work departments of states, and also Indian Roads Congress — to draw up the framework for the safety of highways users who often are at risk due to free-roaming cattle.

The ministry has stepped up its efforts after directions from the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Transport, Tourism and Culture. The panel also suggested placing barricades at possible entry points which facilitate access to wandering animals to highways.

"Urgent steps may be taken in coordination with concerned local authorities to tackle the problem of stray cattle and other animals trespassing National Highways (NH) posing tremendous security risk to the passengers, especially women, seniors and children, besides causing hindrance on the smooth flow of traffic on NHs. Other possible solutions may be looked into to minimise such incidents across the entire NH network in the country so as to make NH travel safer and free-flowing for all passengers," the Parliamentary Standing Committee recommended in its 317th report.

Road accidents and fatalities are a major concern in India. On occasions, the different authorities and courts across states have been issuing directions to prepare an action plan to prevent fatalities on roads.

BJP eyes to cash PFI ban for Kerala poll gain

PAREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Central government's decision to ban the Popular Front (PFI) and several of its affiliates seems to have come as a blessing for the state unit of the BJP in Kerala. The party may try to gain control of the political narrative in the state. The state, which has been a challenge to the party, also has a record of persistently defying the BJP juggernaut even when the Modi wave swept the nation in previous elections.

Ban on PFI has been a long-pending demand of the BJP and RSS, especially because the Islamist outfit originated in the state. The party has also taken up the PFI ban as its latest weapon to attack the ruling CPI (M) government for its 'alleged appeasement' of the radical outfit. The recent remarks of BJP president J P Nadda during his visit to the state that 'Kerala is a hotbed of terrorism' has also invigorated the party cadre.

The party also hopes that the ba of PFI may help it to make inroads into the minority Christian community.

> A section of the Christians is at odds with the Muslim community as they believe that through 'love jihad', they are converting Christian girls to Islam. They are happy with the crackdown on Islamist outfits
>
> A senior BJP leader from Kerala

A leader points out that Nadda's meetings with church leaders of Kottayam and Changanassery archdioceses of the Catholic Church should be read in this context. "It illustrates the party's recalibrated efforts to set targets for 2024 Lok Sabha elections," he said.

Though the BJP's attempt to woo the Christian Community in the 2021 Assembly elections did not bear fruit, a senior party leader told this newspaper that BJP would use the PFI ban to get closer to the community. "A section of the Christians is at odds with the Muslim community as they believe that through love jihad, they are converting Christian girls to Islam. The church leaders are happy with the crackdown on Islamist outfits," said the leader. However, political analyst J Prabhash said that the PFI ban wouldn't improve the fortune of the BJP as much as the party believes.

"The BJP feels that it can mobilise Christian votes by 'othering' the Muslims. It will only antagonise the Muslim community which may vote en masse for anti-BJP groups. Thus, tt may also boomerang on BJP," he said.

Meanwhile, the CPI(M) has always attacked for creating a rift between Chrsitians and Muslims.

Apart from reaching out to minority communities, the party is also looking to strengthen its organisational base in the state. In this regard, the central leadership has recently appointed former union minister Prakash Javadekar as the in-charge of the state. However, Prabhash says that the party needs to have a new political imagination if they want to conquer the state. "It has to break the dominance of either the ruling CPI (M) or Congress to make any inroads," he said.

Another leader said that the party is also planning to play the 'development plank' to grow its footprints. "Our focus will be to give more popularity to the welfare schemes implemented by the Modi government," said the leader.

Bengal govt's flagship outreach drive to not have MGNREGA window over 'irregularities'

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

FOR the first time since the West Bengal's government initiative was launched, the fifth edition of Duare Sarkar (government on doorsteps) will have no window for 100-day job scheme amid murmurs in the administration that Nabanna, the state secretariat, is not hopeful of getting funds from the Centre under the MGNREGA in near future. The decision of the government is said to be significant as this could be the last edition of the Duare Sarkar camps before next year's panchayat elections.

The Centre decided to stop releasing funds under the MGNREGA scheme in December last year after central teams found irregularities.

The Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) used to be implemented by the panchayat department and the 100-day job scheme plays a major role in the rural economy, which has a political impact as well among the rural electorates.

"Usually, a separate counter for the 100-day job schemes is opened at Duare Sarkar camps to ensure people get job cards and get other problems related to the MGNREGA resolved. This time, only one scheme of the panchayat department related to self-help groups has been included in the facilities offered by the camps," said a senior official of the state government.

Mamata introduced Duare Sarkar ahead of the 2021 Assembly elections and it proved effective against the anti-incumbent mood felt earlier during the last year's high-octane polls.

The 100-day job scheme had come to a halt in Bengal in April after the Centre had suspended the release of funds under the MGNREGA alleging gross misappropriation of money over the past few years. The Centre had set a series of conditions to secure funds under the scheme.

"The Centre had asked the state to recover misappropriated funds from persons responsible, mainly panchayat functionaries and deposit the amount in a designated bank account. Recently, the state started recovering some funds but the effort appears to be too little to satisfy the Centre," said an official of the panchayat department.

Sources in the state secretariat said the government is planning to hold panchayat elections in February last year. "This will be the last edition of the initiative before the rural polls. It is a fact that a large section of the rural population depends on a 100-day job scheme to earn their livelihoods. Since the state is not planning to open any window on the job scheme in the camps, it sends a message that the MGNREGA is unlikely to start soon," said an officer.

Incidentally, a week ago, the West Bengal government had passed a bill in the Assembly to enhance its borrowing capacity. The move to amend the West Bengal Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act, 2010, was initiated in the wake of the Centre pausing the release of funds under the MGNREGA scheme. Burdened with ₹70,000 crore debt, Mamata Banerjee-led government is now desperate to keep the flow of funds in the beneficiaries' accounts unaffected before the panchayat elections next year.

'6,421 trees cut for PM's dream tiger reserve project'

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

A dispute has erupted between the Forest Survey of India and the Uttarakhand forest department after 6,421 trees were cut in Corbett forest area for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's dream project Pakhro Kalagarh Tiger Reserve division.

The Pakhro Kalagarh Tiger project has now reached a controversial juncture with three major bodies, the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA), the Ministry of Environment and Forests and Forest Survey of India (FSI) alleging irregularities in the implementation of the project.

The FSI in its report on September 6 stated that it has been found that around 6,421 trees have been cut in Corbett Tiger Reserve, where the Pakhro Tiger project is underway.

The FSI has also discovered that apart from illegal tree felling, around 16.21 ha in Corbett Tiger Reserve has also been cleared by forest officials of state forest department.

The FSI has surveyed the area of Corbett Tiger Reserve following a complaint lodged by the Wildlife conservationist Gaurav kumar Bansal with the NTCA. "It is not that the Uttarakhand forest department has requested the FSI to survey the area. In fact, the Centre had requested the FSI to conduct a survey. The questioning of FSI by the state forest department shows the lack of trust in the country's premier agency, which is unfortunate."

Meanwhile, Principal Chief Conservator of forests, Uttarakhand Vinod Singhal on Saturday has asked FSI to provide a detailed report on the illicit felling of trees in Pakhro Kalagarh Tiger Reserve division.

Singhal clarified that this report has not been received in the office. After preliminary examination of this report there are technical issues which need to be resolved before it can be accepted.

Rejecting the report released by the FSI on felling of such a large number of trees, Singhal said, "There are many questions on the tabulation of the number of trees allegedly cut and the sampling technique used to arrive at this number, on which the FSI has been asked to provide the detailed information."

Puja to have kiosks by women self-help groups

The Bengal government has come up with an initiative to erect kiosks around major Durga Puja pandals in Kolkata and districts to sell products made by women's self-help groups from rural parts of the state. The move is aimed at compensating people who lost their livelihoods after the Centre withheld the release of funds under the MGNREGA scheme because of alleged malpractice. "We have selected 20 famous Puja pandals so far and they will host items, including handicrafts and spices, for sale," said a government official. Bengal has over 10 lakh self-help groups constituted by nearly 1.1 crore women who produce handicrafts, food, saris, etc in their district.

Jadavpur Univ to defer DLitt, DSc convocation

Jadavpur University will hold its annual convocation on December 24 but the special convocation that is held the same day to award DLitt and DSc (honorary) certificates will not be held, said a JU official. JU has decided against holding the special convocation because a stalemate over awarding the DLitt and DSc certificates has remained unsolved since December 2019, when Jagdeep Dhankhar was the chancellor in his capacity as Bengal governor. On December 21, 2019, Dhankhar had called up JU vice-chancellor Suranjan Das and asked him to return the certificates he had signed as was dissatisfied over the decision to defer the special convocation.

TMC to reach out to sulking party cadre

In a bid to ease out disgruntlement among the party's loyal and old foot-soldiers, Trinamool Congress (TMC) national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee issued a directive to organise get together events in every block after Dussehra to felicitate the party's cadre behind the success in derailing the 34-year Left front regime in 2011. In the instructions, it was said that no turncoats will be in the list of those who will be felicitated. The move is said to pacify those party workers who expressed their unhappiness on several occasions over giving priority to turncoats who joined the TMC from other parties, especially from the BJP.

War of words: Kejriwal, Irani lock horns as Gujarat poll heat rises

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

WHILE Union Minister Smriti Irani was addressing Mahila Morcha's programme 'Hello Kamal Shakti' at University convention hall in Ahmedabad, AAP leader Kejriwal was addressing a meeting in Kutch district of Gujarat on Saturday. In a war of words, Kejriwal accused the BJP of being 'arrogant', Irani accused AAP of defaming the Prime Minister's mother on social media. Irani also attacked Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and asked "if he is doing "Bharat Jodo Yatra, then why is he not coming to Gujarat?"

Union Minister Smriti Irani is on a one-day visit to Gujarat for BJP's Mahila Morcha programme 'Kamal Shakti"

Addressing the gathering, Irani hit out at AAP and raised a question about dragging PM's mother Hiraba into a political fight. She said, "I have noticed on social media that AAP has tampered with Hiraba's picture. She is not in politics, so why is AAP dragging her? Is it her fault that her son is the country's pradhan sevak?"

Attacking the AAP, Irani said, "The AAP has come here to play an election game, even though they know that they are not going to win by spreading lies... Kejriwal contested elections in 2014 against PM Modi in Varanasi and was defeated. Now he is coming to Gujarat again for a crushing defeat."

Meanwhile, Kejriwal also attacked the BJP government while addressing a gathering at in Kutch. Kejriwal, along with Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann is on a two-day visit to the state.

Kejriwal said, "Just a few days ago a government report has come in which it says the AAP is set to form government in Gujarat. Since this report has come, these people have gone mad. They have started threatening people. I have come to know that a secret meeting of BJP and Congress is being held to discuss what they should do to make sure that our government is not formed."

No pollution paper, no fuel: Delhi minister

VEHICLES without a valid Pollution Under Control (PUC) certificate will not be allowed to fill fuel at petrol pumps in Delhi from October 25.

"Vehicular emission is one of the key contributors to rising pollution in Delhi. It is imperative to reduce it so it has been decided that from October 25, petrol, diesel will not be provided at petrol pumps without PUC certificate of the vehicle," Delhi Environment Minister Gopal Rai said in a press conference here. An official told this newspaper that the aim is to have about 25% vehicles in the city, which do not have a valid PUC, to obtain it.

Shillong Sikhs to examine govt blueprint on relocation

Guwahati: The Meghalaya government is inching closer towards settling a long-standing dispute with the Sikh settlers of Shillong. The state wants to redevelop Harijan Colony, also called Punjabi Lane which is a prime location of the hill station, by relocating 342 Sikh families.

Gehlot slips into 'all is well' act amid uncertainty over CM post

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

WHILE there is much doubt on whether the Congress leader will continue as chief minister, Ashok Gehlot is making every effort to project that 'all is well' and things are normal in Rajasthan. After returning from Delhi, he was in Bikaner division on Saturday for events connected to rural Olympics in the state. Meanwhile, the verbal war between the Gehlot and Sachin Pilot factions has also subsided in the past two days after the AICC issued a stern advisory. Both camps are now following a 'wait and watch' policy and waiting for the next move of the high command.

In the midst of the political turmoil in the Congress, discussions on a change of leadership in the state are continuing in full swing. Gehlot looked confident in Bikaner and said that the Congress government will complete its full tenure of five years and the last budget of the government will be completely dedicated to the youth.

Last Sunday, a meeting called for the selecting a new chief minister was boycotted by MLAs supporting Gehlot. Among the three conditions that were put in front of the observers sent by AICC, they also included the condition that Gehlot should not be changed till the next budget. Due to these conditions, the observers sent by the AICC had to return. After apologising to Sonia Gandhi in Delhi on Thursday, Gehlot participated in rural Olympics in Bikaner, Hanumangarh and Ganganagar districts on Saturday. During this trip, ministers BD Kalla, Bhanwar Singh Bhati and Lalchand Kataria were present with the chief minister.

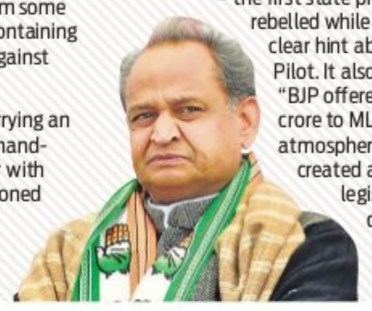
With Gehlot out of the race for the next national president of Congress, he reiterated that he will never be far from Rajasthan. He asserted that he hails from Marwar region of Rajasthan and is not going anywhere from here.

To express his rising confidence, Gehlot has also restarted his attacks on BJP which he has been doing even before Sunday's incident.

He also accused the BJP of trying to topple his government through horse-trading and praised Rahul Gandhi. CM Gehlot also said that BJP's plans will never be successful during his stay.

Raj CM's docs talk about Pilot's plot

- On his way to meet Sonia Gandhi on Thursday, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot had taken with him some documents containing allegations against Sachin Pilot
- Besides carrying an apology, the hand-written paper with Gehlot mentioned that Sachin Pilot may leave the party, according to sources
- Gehlot's papers also mentioned – the first state president, who rebelled while in office – a clear hint about Sachin Pilot. It also mentioned "BJP offered `10 to `50 crore to MLAs. An atmosphere of fear was created among the legislators" – a direct reference to the Pilot's revolt in 2020



Ravan visits this temple for 12 hrs on Dussehra

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE effigy of Ravana would be in flames across the country on coming Wednesday on Vijay Dashmi day amid the chants of 'Siyapati Ram Chandra Ki Jai', except a locality, Shivala in Kanpur, which has a revered a shrine dedicated to Ravana resonating with the chants of 'Jai Lankesh' and 'Lankapati Naresh ki jai ho' on the occasion.

The temple, popularly known as Dashanan temple, is unlocked just for a day on Vijay Dashmi when the demon king comes out of captivity and is worshipped to be relegated again to the lockup till next Dussehra.

On the Dussehra day, when people across the country celebrate the victory of good over evil represented by Lord Ram and Ravan respectively, thousands of devotees throng the Kailash temple, outside the Chhinnmastika Devi temple in Shivala locality of the city, housing a ten-headed, five-feet-tall idol of Ravana in its courtyard. 'Lankapati Ravana' is worshipped here as the guard of Lord Shiva and Goddess Chhinnmastika, besides being an embodiment of 'Shakti' (power) and 'Gyan' (knowledge).

The Dashanan Ravan Temple at Kanpur in Uttar Pradesh

There are seven temples of Ravana across the country, including the one in Kanpur where Ravana is worshipped as the great devotee of Lord Shiva. The other temples include Ravana Mandir, Bisrakh, Greater Noida, Uttar Pradesh; Kakinada Ravana temple, Andhra Pradesh; Ravangram Ravana Temple, Vidisha, Madhya Pradesh; Mandsaur, Madhya Pradesh; Mandore Ravan Temple, Jodhpur, and Baijanath Temple, Kangra district in Himachal Pradesh.

'Puja' and 'Aarti' of Lankadhiraj Ravana starts from 9 in the morning on the Dussehra day and goes on late in the evening till his killing at the hands of Lord Ram.

"Remaining in captivity for 364 days of the year, the devotees take darshan of Lankapati Ravan on the day of Dussehra making a beeline at the temple right from early morning till late in the night believing that it would mitigate all the negativity present in their life and sharpen the brain as Ravan was believed to be all powerful and learned," says Ramji, one of the residents of the locality housing the rare temple.

The temple was built in 1868. It is closed only after the effigy of Ravan, Kumbhkaran and Meghnad go in flames on Dussehra day.

"The common belief is that Ravan comes to this temple for 12 hours on Dussehra day. This temple was constructed by Maharaj Guru Prasad Shukla , a resident of neighbouring Unnao district," says Dhanajay Tiwari, the convenor of puja and head priest of Dashanan temple.

Tiwari adds that over 30,000 devotees visit the temple on the day of Vijay Dashmi.

SC stays Chhattisgarh HC order to pay pension to MISA detainees

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE Supreme Court stayed the order of Chhattisgarh High Court that had quashed the Congress-ruled government's decision to abolish the pension scheme for the detainees under the Maintenance of Internal Security Act (MISA) during the Emergency in 1975.

The erstwhile Raman Singh government launched a monthly pension programme in 2008 for the MISA detainees who were jailed during the 1975-77 Emergency period.

After the formation of the Congress government, the chief minister Bhupesh Baghel instructed all commissioners and the district collectors to stop the pensions from February 1, 2019 till the physical verification of all beneficiaries were carried out. Then the CM had said that pensioners cannot be called freedom fighters. Around 70 MISA pensioners had later filed a petition in the High Court challenging the government's decision to scrap the pension rules.

The state, challenging the high court order, during the hearing stated that its decision was apparently dismissed without appreciating the authority of the state to withdraw any plan it had executed earlier.

"As per Article 282, the power remains with the government to withdraw any decision, which is taken by the government. And the stand of the Chhattisgarh government is clear that they are not the freedom fighters for the nation. Based on the prevailing law in the country, whatever actions are taken for anybody, they are not entitled for any pension or remuneration or similar things," Satish Chandra Verma, advocate general of Chhattisgarh told this newspaper.

"It's the usual legal process. The top court has only given the stay and not a final decision. Only those who filed caveat were present and further notices have been served," said Sachchidanand Upasne, senior BJP leader.

The Chhattisgarh government had filed a special leave petition in the Apex Court that stayed the high court order.

The Congress party welcomed the stay order of the Supreme Court. "The Raman Singh government squandered over ₹100 crore in the name of pension to those who didn't deserve it", said Sushil Anand Shukla, Chairman of the Congress media cell.

Truss admits 'disruption', insists 'iron grip'

LONDON

BRITISH PM Liz Truss has admitted for the first time since her government's mini-budget set off the Pound Sterling's historic downfall that there has been 'disruption', but insisted on staying her course of tax cuts while keeping an 'iron grip' on the nation's finances.

Since her Chancellor, Kwasi Kwarteng, announced GBP 45 billion worth of tax cuts last week, the value of the pound plummeted, nearly half of mortgages were pulled from the housing market, the Bank of England launched a GBP 65 billion buy back of the country's long-term bonds to protect pension funds and International Monetary Fund issued an unprecedented warning.

While the Opposition Labour Party and many members of the governing Conservatives have dubbed it a crisis of the government's own making, Truss reiterated that it was the 'decisive action' that was needed amid global turmoil caused by the Russia-Ukraine conflict.

"I recognise there has been disruption. But it was really, really important that we were able to get help to families as soon as possible that help is coming this weekend," she said.

Writing in The Sun, she said: "The status quo is not working. For too long we have been held back by low growth and high taxes. We need to get things done in this country more quickly. So I am going to do things differently. It involves difficult decisions and does involve disruption in the short term." Meanwhile, trains in UK ground to a halt on Saturday as coordinated strikes by rail workers added to a week of turmoil caused by soaring energy prices and unfunded tax cuts.

Only about 11% of train services were expected to operate across the UK on Saturday, according to Network Rail. Unions said they called the latest in a series of one-day strikes to demand that wage increases keep pace with inflation that is expected to peak at around 11% this month.

Consumers were also hit with a jump in their energy bills. Household bills are expected to rise by about 20%, even after government stepped in to cap prices. Agencies

Ukraine accuses Russia of shelling humanitarian convoy, killing 24

KHARKIV

UKRAINE on Saturday accused Russian forces of gunning down 24 civilians including children in an attack on a road convoy near the recently recaptured town of Kupiansk.

Kharkiv regional governor Oleg Synegubov put the preliminary death toll at 24 including, he said, a pregnant woman and 13 children, alleging: "Russians fired on the civilians at close range." The Kharkiv region prosecutor's office said: "On September 30, prosecutors, investigators of the Security Service and the police discovered a convoy of seven cars that had been shot.

"The car queue was shot by the Russian army on September 25, when civilians were trying to evacuate," the statement alleged.

"Two cars have burnt completely with children and their parents inside—they burnt alive," it said.

A small van or minibus was completely burnt out, with the carbonised remains of four people within. At least one of these corpses appeared small enough to have been a child. Russian forces have not acknowledged or commented on the attack. In other fighting reported on Saturday, four people were killed and six injured by Russian shelling in the Donetsk region, governor Pavlo Kyrylenko reported.

The Russian army also struck the southern Ukrainian city of Mykolaiv twice overnight, once with drones and the second time with missiles, according to regional Gov. Vitaliy Kim.

Meanwhile, Ukrainian forces encircled the strategic eastern city of Lyman on Saturday in a counteroffensive that has humiliated the Kremlin.

Despite Purtin's land-grab Friday of four regions in Ukraine, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and his military have vowed to keep on fighting to liberate the annexed regions and other Russian-occupied areas.

Ukrainian officials said their forces had surrounded some 5,000 Russian forces who were trying to hold the eastern city of Lyman, which is located in Luhansk, one of the four annexed areas. Andriy Yermak, Zelenskyy's chief of staff, posted video online purporting to show Ukrainian soldiers at a monument on the outskirts of Lyman, waving a signed Ukrainian flag.

It remained unclear whether Ukrainian forces have entered the city itself. Luhansk Gov. Serhiy Haidai claimed that all routes to resupply Russian forces in Lyman were blocked. Russia said on Saturday it has withdrawn its troops from the once-occupied city of Lyman, as Ukraine's eastern counteroffensive recaptures more territory.

Russia's Tass and RIA news agencies, citing the Russian defense ministry, had made the announcement.

Lyman is 160 km southeast of Kharkiv, Ukraine's second-largest city. Ukrainian forces had pushed across the Oskil River as part of a counteroffensive that saw Kyiv retake vast swathes of territory beginning in September. Lyman, a key transportation hub, had been an important site in the Russian front line for both ground communications and logistics. Agencies

ANNEXATION MAKES ENDING WAR IMPOSSIBLE, SAYS EU

Madrid: Russia's annexation of four Ukrainian territories makes it "much more difficult, nearly impossible for the war to end," the EU's foreign policy chief Josep Borrell said on Saturday. "Russia is losing" the war, he said in separate comments to a forum in Spain. It "has lost in moral and political terms," but "Ukraine has not yet won." He said Europe has constructed "a garden" that is "surrounded by the jungle". "If we don't want the jungle to invade the garden... we need to get involved," he said, calling for the EU to beef up its military arsenal. "This is necessary and indispensable for survival," he said.

Moscow kidnaps head of Ukraine N-plant: Kyiv

KYIV

RUSSIAN forces blindfolded and detained the head of Europe's largest nuclear plant, Ukraine's nuclear power provider said on Saturday, reigniting long-simmering fears over the plant's security.

The alleged kidnapping on Friday apparently took place shortly after Russian President Vladimir Putin escalated his war in Ukraine and pushed it into a new, dangerous phase by annexing four Ukrainian regions that Moscow fully or partially controls and heightening threats of nuclear force.

In a possible attempt to secure Moscow's hold on the newly annexed territory, Russian forces seized the director-general of the Zaporizhzhia Nuclear Power Plant, Ihor Murashov, around 4 p.m. on Friday, the Ukrainian state nuclear company Energoatom said.

Energoatom said Russian troops stopped Murashov's car, blindfolded him and then took him to an undisclosed location.

"His detention by (Russia) jeopardises the safety of Ukraine and Europe's largest nuclear power plant," said Energoatom President Petro Kotin, demanding the director's immediate release. Russia did not immediately acknowledge seizing the plant director.

The International Atomic Energy Agency said on Saturday that Russia told it that "the director-general of the Zaporizhzhia nuclear power plant was temporarily detained to answer questions." The IAEA did not immediately elaborate. AP

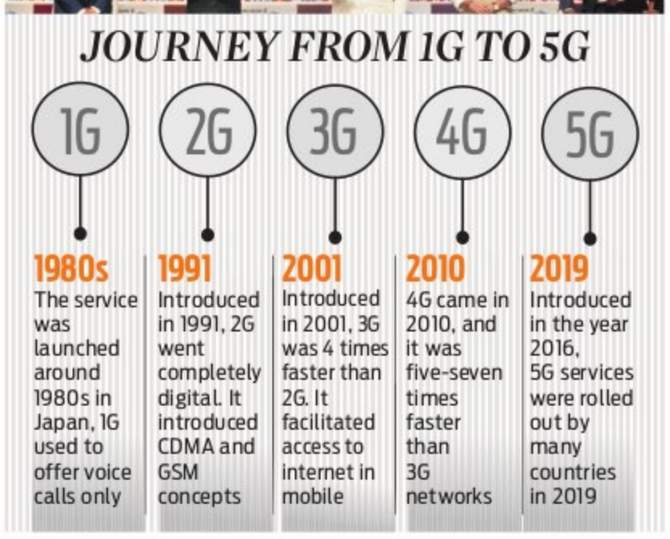
State-run power giant NTPC said it has logged 15.1 per growth in power generation at 203.5 billion units (BU) during April-September 2022. The high generation growth indicates improved performance and an increase in demand for power in the current year, it added.

5G cover across India likely by '24

Jio said it will cover entire India by Dec 2023, Airtel will rollout across India by Mar 2024

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi



JOURNEY FROM 1G TO 5G
1G
2G
3G
4G
5G
1980s
The service was launched around 1980s in Japan, 1G used to offer voice calls only 1991
Introduced in 1991, 2G went completely digital. It introduced CDMA and GSM concepts
2001
Introduced in 2001, 3G was 4 times faster than 2G. It facilitated access to internet in mobile
2010
4G came in 2010, and it was five-seven times faster than 3G networks
2019
Introduced in the year 2016, 5G services were rolled out by many countries in 2019

AS India officially moved into the 5G era on Saturday, Telecom Service Providers (TSPs) are confident of rolling out 5G technology in the entire country in the next couple of years.

While India's largest telecom operator Reliance Jio said it will cover the entire country by December 2023, Bharti Airtel said it will roll out across India by March 2024.

"Today, I want to reiterate Jio's commitment to deliver 5G to every town, every taluka, and every tehsil of our country by December 2023. Most of Jio's 5G is developed in India, and hence carries the stamp of Atmanirbhar Bharat," said Mukesh Ambani, Chairman and MD of Reliance Industries. Ambani, while speaking at the 5G launch at the India Mobile Congress, noted the 5G rollout in India is not an ordinary event in the country's telecom history as it carries keen expectations and the high aspirations of 1.4 billion Indians. "India may have started a little late, but I want to assure all of you, we will finish first by rolling out 5G services across the length and breadth of India. And as an industry, we will ensure that we have the highest quality and the most affordable rates than anyone else has in the world," said Ambani.

He further said, by harnessing the combined power of demography and digital technologies, India can become the world's leading digital society, setting a benchmark for simultaneously achieving the dual goals of acceleration of growth and inclusion in development – acceleration of growth by making India a 40 trillion dollar economy by 2047, up from $3 trillion today, and inclusion in development by raising our per capita income to over $20,000, from $2,000 today. Airtel Chairman Sunil Mittal said Airtel's 5G service will be available in 8 cities, including Delhi, Mumbai, Varanasi and Bengaluru from September 30. "Airtel will deploy 5G services across most cities by March 2023 and across the country by March 2024," said Mittal. However, India's third-largest telecom operator Vodafone Idea has not given any specific timeline. Aditya Birla Group Chairman Kumar Mangalam Birla, while speaking at the launch of 5G services said the company will soon begin a 5G rollout journey.

"We will leverage our strong presence in rural India, our enterprise customers, our tech partners, and global experience of Vodafone Group for progressively rolling out our 5G network and services in the coming period," Birla said.

Industry leaders welcome 5G launch

Sanjay Malik, Senior vice-president and head of India Market, Nokia, said, "Nokia welcomes all measures taken by the Government to facilitate the deployment of 5G technology. Our global experience in 5G rollouts shows that it will provide a strong impetus to socioeconomic growth and industrial development, contributing to the GDP and mission of Digital Bharat."

Madhav Sheth, CEO realme India opined as the first brand to launch a 5G enabled phone, the company believed that 5G has the potential to bring together the entire ecosystem, which is why realme has dedicated 90% of its research and development efforts to 5G technologies and devices. Tasleem Arif, VP and R&D Head of OPPO said after years of intense preparation, the launch of 5G will unleash new economic opportunities and societal benefits, serving as a transformational force for Indian society. Peeyush Vaish, Partner and Telecom sector leader, Deloitte India said today is definitely a historic day for India as the country embarks on a digital journey with the next generation network. The pan-India roll-out of 5G services will significantly uplift the quality of life for the 1.3 billion Indians and give near real time access to education, healthcare and digital content like never before.

All about 5G: What is 5G?

It is the 5th generation mobile network, which is 100 times faster than the 4G network. In simple language one can download films or music on phone with faster speed. At the same time, it provides a wide range of benefits including providing seamless coverage, high data rate, low latency, and highly reliable communications.

What can 5G do?

5G will increase energy, spectrum and network efficiency. The technology will help connect billions of Internet of Things devices and will allow higher quality video services with mobility at highspeed, and delivery of critical services.

NEWSCOPE

GURBIR SINGH

AS the Ukraine war lurches on towards another winter of destruction, Europe is waking up to the reality of a marked shift to the right. Reacting to crime and immigration, Europe's famed liberal politics is disintegrating, even as calls on governments to clamp down on migrants, and stiffen abortion laws become more strident.

Ironically, in the distant, developing world of Latin America, all the 6 major economies of the sprawling continent are being run or poised to run by regimes representing leftwing platforms. Their mandate: to fight inflation and poverty and to try and smother the debilitating impact of Covid and the Ukraine war.

Fascist trends

In Europe, leading the march to new, semi-fascist formations is the controversial Georgia Meloni, leader of the 'Brothers of Italy' Party. She is currently cruising to become prime minister heading a right-wing coalition in Rome. Meloni, an open admirer of the World War II fascist Benito Mussolini, was a fringe politician till late and had received barely 5% of the vote last general elections. This round though has been a resounding success with her coalition grabbing over 40% of the vote. Georgia Meloni has ridden the anti-migration wave. Italy has been the landing spot of thousands of north African refugees who have been making dangerous journeys across the Mediterranean Sea in search of a better life. Italians, facing high inflation and the cost of the Ukraine war, are not happy. They find it easy to identify with Meloni, who had once called for a naval blockade of Africa.

Those who thought she might be a pillar of women's empowerment, have also been deeply disappointed. Her final campaign images are of her holding two melons in front of her chest with the statement: "25th September (Voting Day), I've said everything!"

Weeks earlier, the Sweden Democrats, originally formed as a neo-Nazi party in 1988, led a coalition of 4 extreme rightwing parties winning 176 of 349 seats in Sweden's Parliament, ahead of the Social Democrat center-left coalition. The rightwing successfully wove a narrative linking crime to foreign-born Swedes and increasing migration from Muslim countries.

In France, the centrist Emmanuel Macron won the June presidential elections, but he was reduced to a minority by the far Right victory for the legislature. The Right wing led by Marine Le Pen increased its number of lawmakers almost tenfold and rose from fringe status to mainstream opposition. Barcelona-based philosopher Santiago Zabala says that in crisis time, people in Europe want a clear message on what will ease their economic ills – a message which the Right Wing has been able to deliver. The raison d'être for the European Union, as a neoliberal project, was to create a unified Europe beyond left and right, beyond socialism and conservatism – that would allow the states to function as centrist coalitions.

Rise of new, semi-fascist formations in Europe

In Europe, leading the march to new, semi-fascist formations is the controversial Georgia Meloni, leader of the 'Brothers of Italy' Party. She is currently cruising to become prime minister heading a right-wing coalition in Rome. Meloni, an admirer of the World War II fascist Benito Mussolini, was a fringe politician till late and had received barely 5% of vote in last general elections. This round though has been a resounding success with her coalition grabbing over 40% of vote. Georgia Meloni has ridden anti-migration wave. Italy has been the landing spot of thousands of north African refugees

These moderate, centrist governments are not responsive to the needs of the people, creating an opportunity for the right extremists. Early fascism targeted jews; now it is demonizing the Muslim migrant.

Thousands of miles away in South America, the winds of change are blowing in a different direction. In Chile, a young lawyer fresh out of the students movement, Gabriel Boric Font, fought the presidential elections in December last as head of the left wing 'Apruebo Dignidad' coalition; and at 36, became President in March, the youngest state leader in the world. Brazil, ruled to ruin in recent years by the militarist and right wing Jair Bolsonaro, is on his way out. Polls show that former president Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva, a popular leftist who spent years in jail fighting corruption charges, is back in the reckoning and has a wide lead on the right-wing incumbent.

Gustavo Petro, a revolutionary guerrilla fighter since the age of 17, rode the anti-poverty wave in Colombia and defeated Rodolpho Suarez in June, becoming Colombia's first-ever leftwing President. Similarly, left leader Pedro Castillo, in Peru defeated conservative Keiko Fujimori. Latin America seems to have collectively decided to change course fed up with the right wing corrupt establishments that have spelled grinding poverty and inequality for years. The Covid pandemic and then the Ukraine war has only made things worse for the common people thereby driving a wave of anti-incumbency. The new governments have brought some refreshing change. Venezuela and Colombia, at loggerheads for years, have opened their borders for the first time in 7 years.

These tumultuous changes have serious implications. The rise of ultra-nationalists like Georgia Meloni in Europe has raised concern whether the European Union will be able to hold out as a united front against the Russian invasion. In the longer term, the tilt to the Right will spur racist and anti-immigrant laws.

On the global stage, we are seeing the classical, post-colonial class divide between the haves and the have-nots. The poor, underdeveloped regions like Latin America and Africa are embracing insurgent anti-West leaders who promise the poor more power and food. On the other hand, the new wave Rightwing wants to create a 'Fortress Europe' that will keep marauding migrants and other 'riff-raff' from Africa and elsewhere at bay. We are heading into uneasy times.

Auto industry sees robust sales in September

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S auto industry witnessed robust sales in September 2022, with leading carmaker Maruti Suzuki registering over two-fold surge in annual sales.

Maruti Suzuki India Limited (MSIL) sold 148,380 passenger vehicles in the domestic market last month as against 63,111 units sold in September 2021. MSIL and other carmakers' sales were severely impacted by acute shortage of semiconductors in September 2021. Maruti's total sales including exports grew to 1,76,306 units in September 2022, from 86,380 units in September 2021.

Likewise, Hyundai Motor India (HMIL) registered domestic sales of 49,700 units, a growth of 50% year-on-year (YoY) and Tata Motors' domestic sales grew by 85% YoY to 47,654 units.

Carmakers now expect sales momentum to continue in the festive quarter on the back of new launches and improved semiconductor availability situation.

Tarun Garg, Director (Sales, Marketing & Service), Hyundai Motor India, said, "With the excellent resilience shown by the Indian economy over the last few quarters, the festive season has further fuelled the demand momentum. All three of our new launches Hyundai VENUE, VENUE N Line and TUCSON in the SUV space have received unprecedented customer response."

Shailesh Chandra, managing director, Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles, said, "The PV industry witnessed a strong demand during Q2FY23 fuelled by the festive season and new launches. Tata Motors scaled new highs in passenger vehicles with sales of 142,325 units during the quarter, recording a growth of ~70% versus Q2FY22." Other carmakers such as Kia India, Volkswagen, Toyota Kirloskar, Nissan India and Škoda also witnessed robust surge in demand.

GST collection surges 26% YoY to ₹1.47 lakh crore in September

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Goods and Services Tax (GST) collection in September increased by 26% year-on-year (YoY) to ₹1.47 lakh crore, Finance Ministry said on Saturday.

The collection increased on the back of YoY rise in imports of goods by 39% and 22% higher domestic transactions. This is the seventh month in a row when the GST collection has been more than ₹1.4 lakh crore.

"The growth in GST revenue till September 2022 over the same period last year is 27%, continuing to display very high buoyancy. During the month of August 2022, 7.7 crore e-way bills were generated, which was marginally higher than 7.5 crore in July 2022," Finance ministry said in a statement.

Of the total GST of ₹1.47 lakh crore, central GST (CGST) is ₹25,271 crore, state GST (SGST) is ₹31,813 crore, ntegrated GST (IGST) is ₹80,464 crore (including ₹41,215 crore collected on import of goods) and Cess is ₹10,137 crore (including ₹856 crore collected on import of 7goods).

The government has settled ₹31,880 crore to CGST and ₹27,403 crore to SGST from IGST as regular settlement. The total revenue of Centre and the states after regular settlements in the month of September stood at ₹57,151 crore for CGST and ₹59,216 crore for the SGST.

"GST monthly collections stabilising above ₹1.4 lakh crore for seven months in a row would provide more headroom in the fiscal front. The collections in the next three months are expected to be even more robust due to the higher consumption expected during the festive season and the extension of the mandatory e-invoice protocol to taxpayers having turnover above ₹10 crore from October 1," MS Mani, Partner, Deloitte India said.

100M DASH NO HURDLE FOR JYOTHI

Not a pet event but star hurdler beats Dutee & Hima; Amlan topper in men's competition

FIROZ MIRZA @Gandhinagar

ANDHRA Pradesh's Jyothi Yarraji has been on a record-breaking spree of late. She had re-written the 100m hurdle national record thrice in a span of 16 days in May this year. She added yet another feather to her cap on Saturday on the IIT Gandhinagar athletics track but not in her pet event. This time she clocked her fastest time in the 100m to win the gold at the National Games. What makes the achievement even more special was the way she stunned sprinters like Dutee Chand and Hima Das to finish on top of the podium.

The lanky hurdler clocked 11.51 seconds to emerge the fastest woman but the 23-year-old athlete said she was very relaxed ahead of the race. "I didn't come here thinking of winning or losing. I was just focusing on the timing and never thought of beating anyone. However, now I have a responsibility on my shoulders," Jyothi said after the win. In fact, she thanked the duo of Dutee and Hima for encouraging her to do better. "They are very supportive and always encouraged me to do well despite being competitors. I never think on that line (of beating someone) and I am happy that my timing was good."

Meanwhile, Assam's Amlan Borgohain won the blue riband event in men's category by clocking 10.38 seconds. Borgohain had registered a timing of 10.28s in the semifinals and though he could not improve on that performance, he was more than happy. "You know, it's like a stage show, sometimes you perform, sometimes you don't," the 23-year-old athlete said with a wide grin after clinching the gold.

Asked about the weather and how it affects his performance, Borgohain said he never thinks too much about the conditions or anything and always tries to focus on running. "In those few seconds, there is no time to think. You simply focus on executing your game plan," he said. He said that the only thing he concentrated on during the distance was his posture. It was quite hot as well but he said it never entered his mind even once. "I don't think about it much. It is the same for everyone, isn't it? In the All-India Railway competition, I ran at 2 PM in similar weather conditions and clocked 10.25 seconds. So, I am experienced in this kind of weather."

He also hoped that the performance will inspire youngsters to take up athletics in the North East part of the country. "We have many footballers, weightlifters and boxers and now we are not so bad in athletics either," he said. He also highlighted the sacrifices his family had made to help him make a career in athletics and said he was happy he could deliver. "You see this," he said, pointing to his arm on which he had tattooed 'maa'. "I was in Odisha and was thinking of my mother and simply went and got this inscribed," he revealed, confirming that he didn't tell his mom before getting it done.

However, when asked about his target as far as timing is concerned, he said he doesn't believe in setting a goal.

HS Prannoy marked his return to court after a month's break with a 21-11, 21-9 demolition of Orijit Chaliha to star in Kerala's 3-1 victory over Assam

Jeswin qualifies for world meet

ROSY Meena Paulraj and N Ajith rewrote the national records on another action packed day. While Paulraj erased VS Surekha's mark in the women's pole vault, Ajith defeated the more illustrious Achinta Sheuli to win gold in men's weightlifting. Paulral improved her personal best from 4, to 4.20m, moving the bar beyond the 4.15m set by Surekha in 2014.

At the weightlifting arena, Ajith (73kg) broke the national record in clean and jerk with a lift of 174kg. He lifted a total weight of 315kgs, comfortably beating Sheuli who could only manage 295kgs.

Long-jumper Jeswin Aldrin rounded out a good day for athletes from Tamil Nadu as he once again served notice of his talents by pocketing gold in an event that had the likes of M Sreeshankar. In the process, he rewrote the national games record twice in the span of four attempts. In the process, his 8.26m also enabled him to punch a ticket to next year's World Championships in Hungary.

Shooters Ramita and Arshdeep shine

Ahmedabad: Shooters Ramita and Arshdeep Singh contributed to Haryana's collection of gold medals by defeating the more fancied Madhya Pradesh combination of Shreya Agarwal, Aishawary Pratap Singh Tomar 17-9 in the mixed team 10m air rifle final at the AM & RTA Rifle Club. Ramita (18) and Arshdeep Singh, 26, made the gold medal match appear pretty one-sided. That belied expectations of a close contest after the Madhya Pradesh team had topped qualification 0.2 points ahead of Haryana.

Prannoy makes happy return

Surat: Badminton star HS Prannoy showed he meant business as he marked his return to court after a month's break with a 21-11, 21-9 demolition of Orijit Chaliha to star in Kerala's 3-1 victory over Assam in the mixed team quarterfinals on Saturday.

"I would like to get into the top 10 and preferably top five as I would get a better draw. I also need to work on my game so that I should go beyond the semifinals. That is my priority now."

On Saturday, Prannoy, returning to court after a month's break, didn't break any sweat as he saw off Orijit Chaliha 21-11, 21-9 in a lop-sided contest.

"I last played in the first week of September in Japan Open. It was a long break for me after some good victories this year," Prannoy said.

"I was not moving as well as I wanted to, but I have got back to training. And, playing a match after a long time is always tough. But going deeper into the tournament, I will be getting tougher matches."

Prannoy has been in good form since helping India win their maiden Thomas Cup title in May this year. His best came when he made it to the final of the Swiss Open, a BWF Super 300 event.

Bajrang rues missing Games, says recovery going well

FIROZ MIRZA @ Gandhinagar

LIKE several elite athletes, star wrestler Bajrang Punia also decided to skip the ongoing 2022 Gujarat National Games due to a head injury he sustained at the World Championships in Belgrade. Despite missing the event, he tried to have the feel of the Games being held after seven years as he visited the wrestling arena here at Mahatma Mandir in Gandhinagar on Saturday.

The four-time Worlds medallist has several titles in his brimming trophy cabinet but the National Games accomplishment is missing from it. And he regrets it. "I feel strongly about competing at the event as I have played several tournaments including Worlds and Olympics but never featured at the National Games. I miss that joy of competing here," Bajrang said on the sidelines of the wrestling event. The Haryana grappler had missed the previous edition held in 2015 as he was in the USA training for international events.

He was all praise for the Gujarat government. "I congratulate the Gujarat government and Prime Minister Narendra Modi for hosting such an event with infrastructure of international standard. It's very rare to watch athletes being given such facilities at the national tournament. It feels like I am witnessing an international meet," Bajrang said.

Bajrang suffered a head injury during his first bout at the Worlds. He lost the next bout to US' Yianni Diakomihalis but came back strongly in the repechage round and won two bouts to claim bronze despite nursing the injury. "The time was very short after the Worlds and the injury didn't help my case either, otherwise I would have loved to compete here. After coming back I got the stitches as well. Now the wound is healing and I have started training as well," he added.

Almost all the big wrestling events are over for this year and Bajrang now wants to focus on Pro Wrestling League scheduled in January next year. "The Wrestling Federation of India will conduct the league next year. Apart from that, the Asiad and Worlds too are scheduled for next year. The World Championships will be the first qualifying event for the 2024 Paris Olympics. So the next year will be very important for all the wrestlers," the 65kg wrestler said.

Speaking of his performance at the Worlds, he expressed satisfaction and said, "I conceded points while playing aggressively but the good thing is that I earned back points as well. Obviously, there is always a scope for improvement and I am working hard to work on it. It's a continuous process and improvement will happen gradually," Bajrang said.

For the next one month and half, the Olympics bronze medallist will train in the country and then leave for an exposure trip if everything goes as per plan. "We have planned an exposure trip to Russia or the USA. If the trip is sanctioned, I will train there ahead of the big events lined-up next year," he signed off.

Hopeful Bumrah makes WC squad: Dravid

AFP @ New Delhi

INDIA are "hopeful" that injured pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah could still make this month's T20 World Cup despite his withdrawal from the South Africa series, coach Rahul Dravid said on Saturday.

Bumrah missed Wednesday's opening win over the Proteas and is under medical supervision for a stress-related issue of the back. Indian media have said the 28-year-old's withdrawal from the Australia tournament was a certainty, but Dravid said a final decision had not yet been reached.

"As of now officially he is only ruled out for this series but we will see what happens over the next few days," Dravid told reporters.

"Obviously till he is officially ruled out, we will always be hopeful, not just as a team but also for Jasprit as an individual."

India begin their World Cup campaign in three weeks and Bumrah's absence would be a blow to their prospects of winning the showpiece event.

Bumrah played two T20 internationals against Australia recently but was not at his best, having already spent time on the sidelines. India have missed Bumrah's death-bowling expertise. He has played 30 Tests, 72 ODIs and 60 T20Is for India since making his international debut in January 2016.

India's final two matches against South Africa are on Sunday and Tuesday, also at home.

Their World Cup campaign begins on October 23 in Melbourne against arch-rivals Pakistan.

Chance to seal series

India's new-ball bowlers came to the fore against South Africa on Wednesday. Can they make it an encore on Sunday to seal the series. A look at the second T20I...

ARSHDEEP, CHAHAR IN FOCUS AGAIN

With Jasprit Bumrah's injury status not yet clear, there is a greater need for bowlers to be in form. Both Arshdeep Singh and Deepak Chahar caught the eye with the way they moved the ball. Do it again in Guwahati — a place that can offer movement — and they could just see be in the XI against Pakistan in less than a month's time.

Seeing R Ashwin in the first match wasn't a surprise. But he didn't get the chance to bowl a proper spell against the visiting left-handers. If they get of to a better start, the onus will be on the off-spinner to win the match-up. It's another sub-plot that could have some World Cup ramifications.

RABADA AGAINST INDIA'S TOP-ORDER

On a pitch that resembled the outfield, Kagiso Rabada bowled a lively first spell. Not that he needs any help anyway. With bigger tests coming up on fast, bouncy tracks, the likes of KL Rahul, Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli will quite like another duel to figure out how best to handle him when the two sides meet in Perth,.

There have been two T20Is held at the Barsapara Stadium (Guwahati). One was won by Australia with another no result.

Leclerc takes pole, Max to start from 8th in Singapore

AP @ Singapore

Charles Leclerc took pole position on Saturday for the Singapore Grand Prix, but Formula One world championship leader Max Verstappen was left fuming after finishing only eighth fastest in damp conditions.

Leclerc clocked 1min 49.412sec in his Ferrari to top the timesheets 0.022sec ahead of Red Bull's Sergio Perez with the Mercedes of Lewis Hamilton third.

Verstappen, who can mathematically retain his world title this weekend, had looked set to challenge Leclerc's time on his final flying lap before being told to abandon and return to the pits by his Red Bull engineer. The Dutchman had set the fastest first sector, then let fly an expletive-peppered tirade over team radio after being instructed to abort.

Only the top-10 shootout for pole took place on slick tyres on the night Marina Bay circuit.

Most of qualifying took place on intermediate tyres with the track still too damp to risk slicks, with the unforgiving concrete walls of the city centre track an ever-present danger for any loss of control. "In Q3 we didn't really know what to do," said Leclerc, about whether to switch to slicks. "We went for the soft at the very last minute — and it paid off.

"I mean, it was really, really tricky."

Monaco's Leclerc can prevent Verstappen from sealing the championship this weekend by finishing higher than eighth in Sunday's race. Leclerc now has a commanding grid advantage over the Dutchman, who will start from the fourth row on a circuit that offers few overtaking opportunities.

Tennis: Shapovalov surges into final of Korea Open

SEOUL: Fourth seed Denis Shapovalov will face Japan's unseeded Yoshihito Nishioka in Sunday's final of the Korea Open as the Canadian closes on the second title of his career. Shapovalov defeated eighth seed Jenson Brooksby of the United States 7-5, 6-4 on Saturday while Nishioka beat another American, Aleksandar Kovacevic, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 in the other semi-final in Seoul. "Brooksby was definitely a tough opponent," said Shapovalov, who rose to a career-high 10th in the world two years ago but is now ranked 24.

Paddler Manika loses twice as India women suffer setback

CHENGDU: Sreeja Ajula and Diya Chitale registered impressive wins but Manika Batra lost both her fixtures as India women's team lost 2-3 to Germany in their ITTF World Team Championships opener here on Saturday. The men's team, on the other hand, blanked Uzbekistan 3-0 in its Group 2 opening clash. Batra, ranked 44 in the world, was no match to the World No 8 Ying Han, who breezed past the Indian 3-0 (11-3, 11-1, 11-2). World No 77 Sreeja then upstaged the higher-ranked Nina Mittelham 3-0 (11-9, 12-10, 11-7) to put India back in the contest.

Irani Trophy: Mukesh and Sarfaraz put RoI on top

RAJKOT: Medium pacer Mukesh Kumar rattled Saurashtra before Sarfaraz Khan continued his dream run with an attractive hundred to put Rest of India in the driver's seat on the opening day of Irani Trophy match here on Saturday. Mukesh picked up four wickets (4/23) as Saurashtra were bowled out for just 98 runs. At stumps, Sarfaraz's unbeaten 125 off 126 balls took Rest of India to 205 for 3.

Brief scores: Saurashtra 98 in 25.4 overs (Mukesh Kumar 4/23, Kuldeep Sen 3/41, Umran Malik 3/25) vs Rest of India 205/3 (Sarfaraz Khan 125*, Hanuma Vihari 62*).

Derby delight: Arsenal beat Spurs to prove title credentials

AFP @ London

ARSENAL underlined their credentials as genuine contenders for the Premier League title with an impressive 3-1 win over 10-man Tottenham in a bruising north London derby on Saturday. Mikel Arteta's side made it seven wins from eight league games this season as they moved four points clear at the top of the table.

The 192nd meeting between these bitter rivals from opposite ends of the Seven Sisters Road was a typically frenetic occasion from the moment Thomas Partey put Arsenal ahead early in the first half.

Harry Kane equalised with a penalty but third-placed Tottenham imploded after the interval as Hugo Lloris's mistake allowed Gabriel Jesus to restore Arsenal's lead.

Tottenham defender Emerson Royal was sent off for an ugly foul on Gabriel Martinelli Vicbefore Granit Xhaka's goal ensured Arsenal would avenge the 3-0 defeat against their hated neighbours last season that cost them a Champions League place. Ending Tottenham's 13-match unbeaten run in the league was a significant statement of intent from Arsenal.

Arsenal have now lost just once in 30 home league games against Tottenham, yet there was far more than local braggingrights at stake for the Gunners. Their only previous match against a top-four rival this season ended in a 3-1 defeat at Manchester United, but this dynamic performance showed they must be taken seriously in the title race. Next Sunday's showdown with Liverpool will be another test for Arsenal, but while champions Manchester City remain the title favourites, Arteta's team are emerging as a force to be reckoned with.

Liverpool held, Chelsea win

Leandro Trossard scored a hat-trick for Brighton as Liverpool's slow start to the Premier League season continued in a thrilling 3-3 draw at Anfield on Saturday. Jurgen Klopp's men were starring down the barrel of a first league defeat in front of fans at Anfield since 2017 when the Belgian scored twice inside the first 17 minutes.

Liverpool have won only won two of their first seven league games of the season to already fall 11 points behind leaders Arsenal.

Chelsea rallied to beat Crystal Palace 2-1 at Selhurst Park.

Results: Arsenal 3-1 Tottenham; Bournemouth 0-0 Brentford; Crystal Palace 1-2 Chelsea; Fulham 1-4 Newcastle; Liverpool 3-3 Brighton; Southampton 1-2 Everton.

Big victory for Bayern

MUNICH: A masterclass from Jamal Musiala, as well as a first goal in five games for Sadio Mane, helped Bayern Munich thump Bayer Leverkusen 4-0 at home. Musiala scored one and set up two more, leaving the field to a rapturous reception when substituted after 81 minutes. Asked after the game if the win removes pressure from manager Julian Nagelsmann, Musiala said simply "the pressure was on us all".
